The other side of the road

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON - "Basically we (Bruce Transportation) are in the process of being railroaded out of Wilmington," claimed Gig Michaud, Regional Manager for Bruce Transportation during an interview with the Town Crier on Tuesday.

"When you look at what the school board and the school department are saying, they've come up with four, five or six instances of situations that they voice their concern over. What they don't mention, is that we have had over 448,000 child delivery opportunities. Let's talk facts, we're doing a very very good service," said Michaud.

"The drivers are up in arms, they've wanted to meet with the school committee, and the school department to voice their concern. These are the drivers who drove for the previous company" added Michaud.

"They claim that not only did the previous company have all of the same kinds of problems, we are doing a far better job in terms of them wanting to work for us" said Michaud. "We park in a hottop area, with local management team, and a local maintenance facility" stated Michaud.

"The big concern that they [the school committee] had was for a six week span, we had to double on occasion, not every day, not every run, one sometimes two on a particular day for a four to six week period. That comes from the Massachusetts unemployment rate of 3 percent. There is not a lot of people out there. When you lose someone in a day, it takes 4 to 6 weeks to train someone new. Since the 22nd of October, we have not doubled one single run," Michaud added.

"When I requested to come the School Committee on the (October) 28th, I came to them to explain to them where we were, how we trained and hired a few new people, why we had the problem in the beginning, a few of the people we expected to come with us from the previous company opted not to at the last minute" he said.

"Wilmington has made up their mind, and they made up their mind, our company feels, before we even started the contract, that they were going to watch us like a hawk, because the wanted the previous company who had been here some 20 years back in the city" stated Michaud.

"In 1992 the Massachusetts Legislature changed the Chapter 33 low bid procurement act. It is mandated that the school board has to accept the low qualified reasonable bidder whether they like the previous company or not. I have since come to have discussions with the school department and they have admitted to me that some of the school board members absolutely did not want to take a different company. They wanted the company they had for years, the law doesn't allow that any more. Since then, no matter what we have done wrong, letters have been sent to the lawyers, the documentation process started early in the school year. That's unlike any other school system we that operate in, we are talking in over 100 different school systems, and we don't get that kind of treatment. Wilmington has made the decision that they want the other company back," he stated.

"They've maintained their contact with the previous company, and it is our belief that the previous company has advised the school department what permits, licenses, documentation, stickers to look for etc." said Michaud.

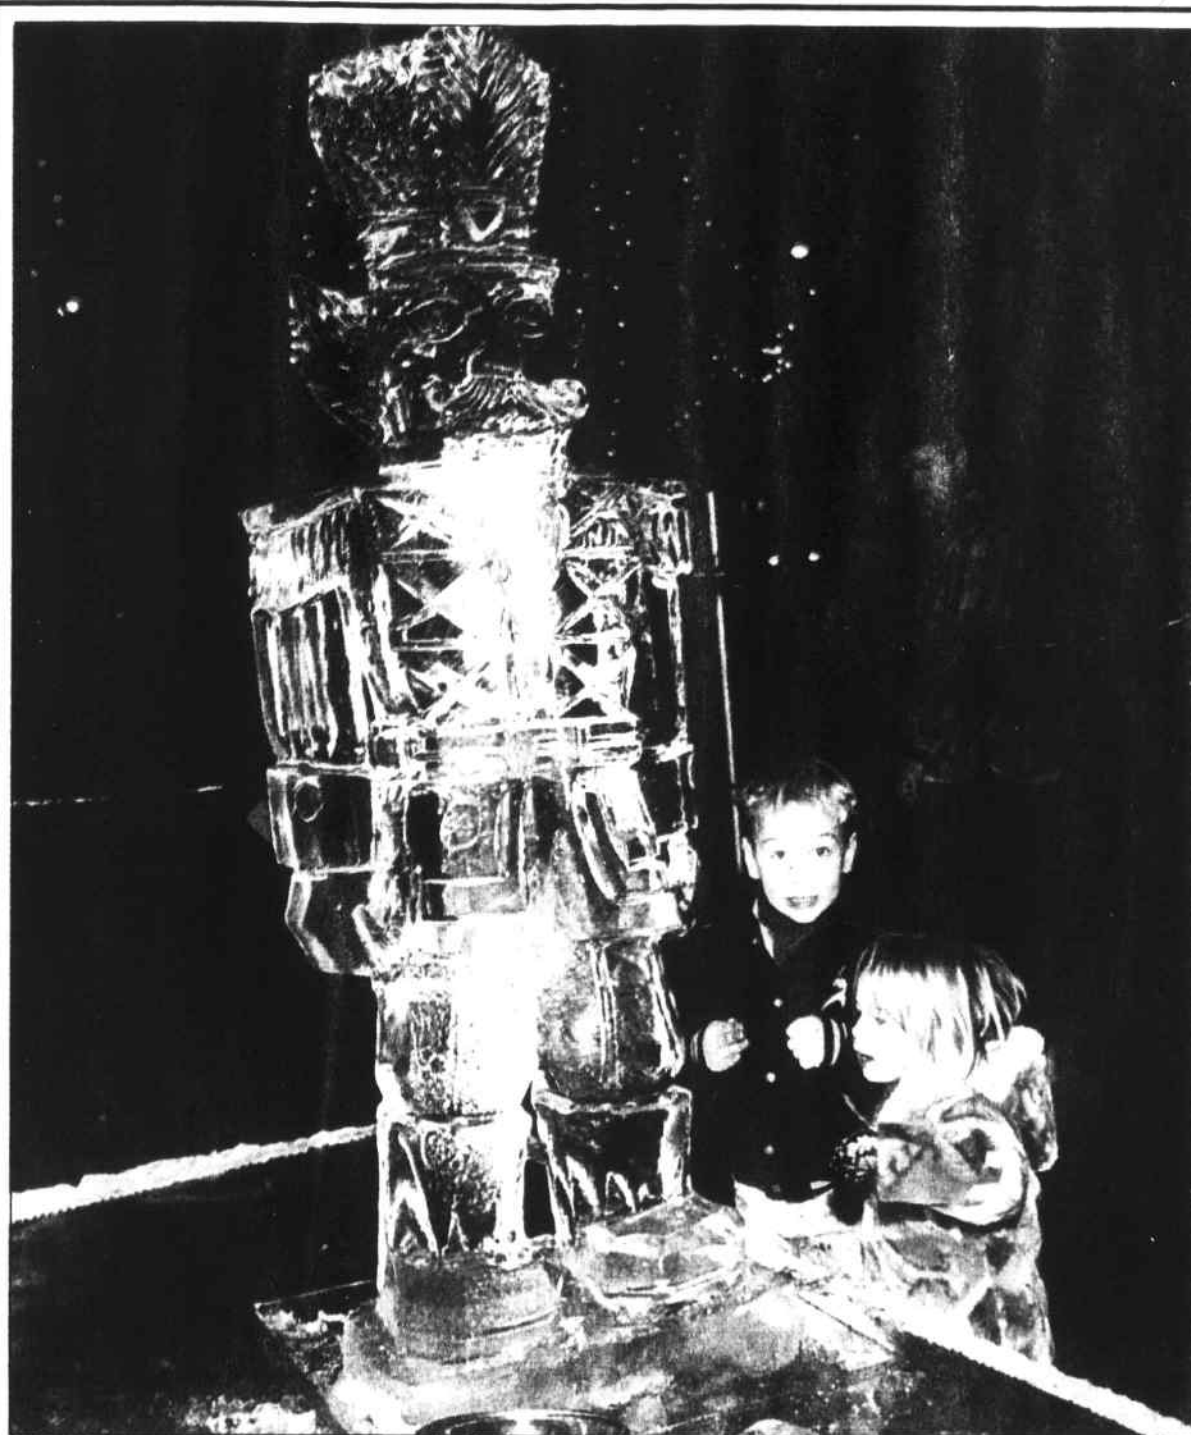

"Isn't it ironic that when we sat down with the school department in the summertime at the end of our meeting, I asked them specifically for copies of the previous contractors licenses, and any other information that would allow me to know who the people were so I could contact them to see if they were interested in coming to work for our com-

1992 kidnapping of Wilmington youth

New lead on an old case

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON - Wilmington police are following up on new leads in an unsolved 1992 kidnapping of a boy, then 15, in North Wilmington.

"We have someone in mind" said Wilmington Police Inspector Pat King.

King, along with several other officers have interviewed nearly 500 people in connection with the case. "We approached the case from every angle. We had help from the Massachusetts State Police, FBI, and the Registry. We even went to prisons to interview suspects" King added.

In 1992 the suspect approached three teenagers on Marcia Road about 11:30 p.m., flashed a badge, and told the youths he was a detective. After questioning the youths about a broken window in a drug store, he walked them down Carolyn Road. He lined the trio up along a fence, handcuffed one of the boys. He then told the other two to go home.

Saying he was taking the youth to the drug store where the window was broken, the victim was then led to a parked car on Longview Road. The car was described as a dark blue four door hatchback.

The man then drove west on Route 62 to the Wilmington Common where he took a right on Middlesex. He passed the police station, then the suspect turned right on Route 38, saying he was going to the State Police in Lowell.

In Tewksbury he turned right onto Victor Drive, which leads to Tewksbury junior High School saying he had to check the building. He drove past the school into a dark wooded area. At this point he tried to place duct tape over the victim's mouth.

The victim was able to escape from the car, but the man then jumped on him and wrapped duct tape around his head and over his mouth. When the man turned back into the car, the youth fled toward the elderly housing, jumped a fence and pulled a fire alarm.

Tewksbury firefighters responded and found the youth, still handcuffed and gagged with duct tape, but otherwise unharmed.

Police have been followed leads on a suspect, who was described as being a white male in his mid-twenties, between six feet and 6'2", with a large build. His face was clean shaven and round. He was wearing a blue baseball-type hat and a blue windbreaker with white stripes and large square pockets with velcro flaps. He is said to have spoken with a slight lisp.

Police brought in a trained dog owned by one of the officers, and were able to track the incident. At the location where the car was parked, they were able to find tire tracks and footprints that matched the scene in Tewksbury where the youth escaped.

Police theorize that the suspect had stalked the youths from the tennis courts at Wilmington High School, where they had been playing basketball. When they took a right on North Street, he then parked the car on Longview Rd, NEW LEAD, OLD CASE PAGE 20

Well cleaning plan presented

By KARIN ROUND

WILMINGTON - Looks like the town well at the Shawshen Avenue pump station is in for a bath.

Alison Perry, an engineer with Weston and Sampson, presented the town's well-cleaning plan to the Conservation Commission at their last meeting. Accumulated sand and debris now hinder pumping. To return to its original pumping rate of 500 gallons a minute, the well needs cleaning.

Muriatic acid, chlorine and hexametaphosphate will be surged into the tank, according to Perry, and then pumped into a temporary holding tank. The water will be treated to remove traces of chlorine and to neutralize the

It's YOUR Money

ABOUT BASIS

In "tax" language, basis is the cost of the asset you are selling. But it's not an absolute; it's the cost at a particular time and may include more than the original cost. Your basis in your house, for example, includes the cost of any capital improvements made.

The basis in stocks, mutual funds and other property is what was paid for it. Given away as a gift, the same basis goes with it. One loophole: if it has dropped in value, the donee's basis is the market value on the date of the gift. Once the property is left in a will, the basis is "stepped up" and becomes the value of the property at the date of the owner's death (or six months later, if that is more advantageous; the executor can decide).

The basis in mutual funds is the original price, plus any reinvested dividends, plus any brokerage commissions. Save the statements that document these figures. When you sell shares, specify exactly which (usually high basis) ones you wish to sell.

How good do I have to be?

Dear Santa,
Well, Santa, I've been good! Hell, I've been much better than good — I've been excellent! Because I've been excellent, there is only one thing I want from you for this Christmas, I want to become Scott Zolack! Yea, that's right, Scott Zolack, number whatever, New England Patriots. Back up quarterback to Drew Bledsoe and even sometimes Tom Tupa. That Scott Zolack! You know, the guy on television with the clipboard and baseball cap. Him, I want to become him, Zolack.

I know Santa, you're asking yourself why would an excellent person as myself want to become Scott Zolack. Could it be because he hasn't started a New England Patriots game since 1991. Or because he must have closets full of Patriots jackets, tee shirts and sweat suits (undoubtedly sans sweat) and hats. He must get preferred parking at the Stadium for home games. Chartered first class air travel and a ride on the team bus for away games.

Come to think of it does he even travel to away games? It sure looked like someone else holding the clipboard at last week's Pittsburgh game! Did anyone see Scott actually travel to Pittsburgh? Does anyone remember what he looked like. Remember, it may have been quite awhile since Scott actually played. Come to think of it, he doesn't even hold the ball for field goal try's, Tupa does. Not a chance of injury, unless hangovers count!

And if he really had to play, would he know any of the plays? For sure, he would have to borrow a helmet, as the one issued to him may have been made of leather and certainly had no face mask bar! If the coach really sent Scott into the game, he would first have to introduce himself to the other players. "Hi! I'm Scott Zolack. I'll be your quarterback." Which 320 pound linebacker do you suppose he would ask, "When is Bill Parcells coming back and who is this fellow filling in for him? Bob Craft, maybe, Bill Kraft? Whatever!" Come to think of it, he may not be the only one wondering this!

While certainly I wouldn't be swayed by the money Scott earns (in the broadest definition of the term "earns") but somewhere over $1 million per season could prove attractive. Oh yea, don't forget the fully vested pension at age 55! Damn right, I'll take that little perk! Just think of the great pickup lines I could use, "Yea, I am a quarterback in the National Football League" or "Sure, I can introduce you to Mr. Bledsoe."

What do you think Santa? Do I have a chance to become Scott Zolack? All right, I'm not even sure I'm spelling his name correctly. Who really knows or for that matter cares? Remember though Santa, I've been excellent! P-L-E-A-S-E

Letter to the Editor

Thanks for the thanks...
but I didn't do it alone

Dear Editor:

In regard to the article in last week's edition (Dec. 3, 1998) about the three residents who were honored by Community Teamwork with Local Hero awards, I would like to clarify a couple of misunderstandings in the article.

Although my awareness of the problems of hunger and homelessness in the area began when I was parish secretary at St. Anne's Episcopal Church in Lowell, it was not I who established St. Anne's lunch program (not House of Hope as stated in the article). St. Anne's clergy and several parish leaders deserve that credit. I did, however, take over as director of the program after it had been operating for a couple of years. The lunch program is no longer operating.

While I was involved with the lunch program, I was asked to participate in the Lowell Conference of Churches task force which eventually established the Open Pantry of Greater Lowell in 1982. Shortly after the Open Pantry was established, I was requested to serve on another ecumenical task force formulating plans to open the first Lowell shelter for homeless individuals and families. This shelter opened on Christmas Eve in 1985 and is known as the House of Hope. The lunch program was a project of St. Anne's Church, while the Open Pantry originated with the Lowell Conference of Churches and House of Hope is the result of cooperation between the Lowell Conference of Churches and a task force formed by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

Although few volunteers are looking for recognition and/or rewards for their efforts, we are always happy to know that our work is being appreciated. On behalf of my husband, Fred, and myself, I wish to thank both Community Teamwork and the Tewksbury Board of Selectmen for all their kind words.

Sincerely,
Patricia A. Brown

Letters from Santa support Community Fund food pantry

You can light up the heart of your child and help the Wilmington Community Fund Food Pantry at the same time. For a $3.00 donation (more if you like) your child can receive a colorful letter from Santa personalized as you direct.

The folks at the North Pole (locally 25 Lowell St., Wilmington) are for the third year raising money for townfolks who are not as fortunate as the rest of us. The Wilmington Community Fund has for years been running a food pantry, but food isn't always what is needed. Cash donations go a long way to fill in the gaps.

Santa Cause was is the fund-raising idea of local businessman Jim Murray. For a small donation to the Community Fund, he and his staff will send a letter to your child, your boss, friend, spouse or anyone you would like to surprise with a whimsical Christmas note.

We have all heard of "charities" which chew up half of their donations in "expenses" but this is not the case here. The Santa Cause staff pick up all the costs of producing and mailing the letters and the Community Fund has no paid employees. All the money donated gets where it should be going - to needy

Wilmington families.

One of Murray's interests is the Internet. He has taken the Santa Cause to the Web and now people all over the world are able to support the Wilmington Community Fund! Last year hundreds of dollars came in from dozens of states. One such letter went to a Green Bay football fan. This person's friend had requested a letter from Santa teasing him about his desire for the Superbowl Championship, but also informing him that it had already been promised to Bill Parcells!

It is official! Monday's mail contained a letter delivered to Murray's office from a Wilmington tot addressed to: Santa, North Pole. No donation was enclosed, but Santa, being a generous soul, will reply anyway.

If you would like to surprise your special person with a personalized letter from Santa just send your donation of $3.00 or more (checks payable to Wilmington Community Fund) to North Pole 25 Lowell St., Wilmington, MA 01887. You can also drop in to Murray's office at 25 Lowell St., Unit 106. Deadline for pre-Christmas delivery is Monday, Dec. 21.

MBTA questions

Dear Editor:

It is with great interest that I have followed the televised town board meetings (both the board of selectmen, and most recently, the 12/1/98 planning board meeting) of the proposed building/renovation of an MBTA station in Wilmington center. This letter is to express my appreciation and respect for several of our town officials in the manner that they have dealt with this matter, specifically (in no particular order) planning board members Ms. Hamilton and Mr. Diorio, town manager Mr. Cairra, town planner Ms. Duncan, and selectmen Mr. Cain and Mr. McCoy.

My wife and I are relatively new (five year) residents to this community, and our intent is to raise our three children here. It is both reassuring and comforting to know that the town officials mentioned above are working hard to ensure that this community is a desirable place to raise a family for the long term!! These individuals have asked some very good, tough and appropriate questions of the MBTA with regard to this extremely important project that will affect all of us in this town for a very long time to come.

At the same time, it is quite upsetting to observe some of our elected officials suggest that if we trust the MBTA to do the right thing, that they in fact will. On the contrary, this week's planning board meeting demonstrated to those of us watching that the MBTA has not at all cooperated with the town in addressing serious concerns such as drainage, traffic studies, and access of the station for physically challenged people, all questions that have been raised months ago, with no satisfactory answers forthcoming to date.

It is still not readily apparent to me why a parking lot on that exact location is so important to some of our selectmen. At this past week's planning board meeting, two of our town officials suggested that a better location for this station would be on the MBTA maintenance facility which is on land that the MBTA already owns. The immediate response from one of our selectmen was that the planning board meeting was not the forum to discuss alternative sites. I would prefer, if our elected officials fostered, rather than hampered, a dialogue which includes all possible options, so that the planning board and the town as a whole can make an informed decision, not one which is hasty and lacking both data and information.

The importance of this issue can not be underestimated. In the five years that my family has lived in Wilmington, this is an issue the impact of which is second only to the building of a new school and public safety facility. I am extremely grateful to the town officials mentioned above for their attention to detail with regard to the MBTA's proposed plans, as well as for their time and care in ensuring that this project is best for our community. Please keep up the very good work.

Sincerely,
John W. Metcalfe

Reading Recovery really works well!

Dear Editor:

This is a letter of thanks. Thank you to the Wildwood School for implementing the Reading Recovery program this past September. For those of you who are not familiar with Reading Recovery, (I wasn't until my six-year-old began to benefit from the program in September) it is an early intervention program in reading for first grade students who are "at risk" of reading failure. The goal of Reading Recovery is to help the children read at or above the average levels of their first grade peers in the least amount of time, typically 12-16 weeks.

Reading Recovery provides these children a second chance to become independent readers. These children receive one-on-one extra help from a specially trained teacher (Ms. Shelley Carroll at the Wildwood School; Ms. Cheryl Hackett at the Woburn Street) for 30 minutes each day in addition to their normal classroom instruction. What an improvement in my child's ability to read! It helped so much and so quickly. She began to read and gained more self-confidence as she improved. Now she reads to us at night. Her father and I were worried she would become discouraged early on because she was behind, and then not like school.

In November, it is not an issue any longer because she can read! Thank you again Ms. Carroll and the Wildwood School. Reading Recovery is also offered at the Woburn Street School. Hopefully this is just the beginning of a long list of young students who will benefit from this wonderful program, that will ensure their success through their school years and beyond. I think it would be a great idea if the Town Crier did a feature story on the Reading Recovery program.

Kathryn Carbone

Pepsi's & others support appreciated

Dear Sports Editor
The Friends of Wilmington Field Hockey would like to thank Pepsi of Wilmington for their generous donation of soda for the Thanksgiving Dance at Wilmington High School.

The dance was a great success thanks to the many parent volunteers and Officer Bruce

Wilmington Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - This year there is a special tree - a "Giving Tree" in the lobby of the Buzzell Senior Center. This tree will give everyone the opportunity to help others in the community.

All one need do is drop by the Center and take an ornament from the tree. On the ornament there will be a gift needed for the seniors of Wilmington. For example: a holiday plant, scarf and mittens, gift certificate for a local grocery store, stamps and many more such items. Once the item is purchased, take it back to the Center, wrapped for the holiday.

Your gift will then be personally delivered to bring a bit of holiday cheer. Those who know anyone who could benefit from this program are urged to call the Center at 657-7595. No names are used. Everything is highly confidential.

As a reminder, December 15 there will be a tree decorating celebration at 1 p.m. All are invited to join in the fun. Also on December 15, there will be a commissioners meeting at 1:30 p.m. and on December 16, there will be a seniors' holiday party at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading, starting at 6 p.m. A full turkey dinner will be served and live entertainment will be supplied.

Lastly, thanks to everyone who helped make the seniors' annual crafts fair a huge success. The money raised goes directly back to the needs of the seniors.

West Real Estate had a visit from Santa and his Marines. Yes, Marines really do help Santa, with their Toys for Tots campaign. Sharing Santa's lap are Mark and Colleen West. In the rear rank is Jennie Peak, Gunnery Sgt. Mark Gagnon, S. Sgt. Marie Sebastian, Joan Ratto, Karen West, Frank West and decked out in his red striped shirt Frank West, Jr. (Joe Hakey photo)

Town Crier Christmas decorations contest is on again

The Town Crier judges will once again be plying the streets of Tewksbury and Wilmington viewing nominated homes and feasting on cookies. As usual there are no prizes and only nominated houses will be judged. The nomination process is easy. Just call 658-2346 and nominate your well decorated neighbor (even if they live way across town). This is not a popularity contest. The house with the most nominations may win some mention but the winners will be determined by the best cookies or other treats offered. Other categories include: Most Tasteful Decorations, Best Spice Cake, Most Original, Best New Entry, Best Party in progress when the judges arrive (unannounced), Best Use of Color or any whim the judges happen to think of as they make their rounds.

Last year one Wilmington tyke had a table all set out by the mailbox with milk and cookies and a carrot for the reindeer. A family on Shawsheen Ave., Wilmington was nominated many times AND they had a buffet ready for the judges. The second annual visit to one house in Tewksbury found the homeowner using a generator to augment the power company as the street was bathed in the glow from the house. The outside, as spectacular as it was eclipsed by the interior where every room was filled with theme decorations. The judges still don't know where the people slept and ate while their home was thus transfigured.

Remember this is all in fun. There are no prizes. Winners will get a photo of their house in the Town Crier and nothing more!

Deadline for nominations is noon December 18th. Judging will be done over the weekend. Nominees will be notified by mail of their impending visit. Accept no substitutes.

Courtney Figucia, Melissa Mahoney and Sarah Ippolito sand along with their Town Crier Christmas songbooks during a hay ride at the Wilmington Christmas decorations lighting at the common on Saturday. The books they have are supplied one in each Town Crier this week. Anyone wishing free extra copies may come to the Town Crier office at 104 Lowell St., Wilmington to pick up as many as they would like during normal business hours. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

Rush on to replace fuel storage tanks

By PAUL HAYES

The last thing Dave Galante wanted to do was shut his gas station down during holiday season.

The fuel pumps at Galante's Discount Gas, 324 Main St., Wilmington, have been dormant since early November, when the replacement of two underground fuel storage tanks began. The replacement of the 4,000 and 10,000 gallon tanks occurs during the heart of the holiday season, when business is especially brisk.

"It couldn't have happened at a worse time," Galante said.

But Galante must ensure his underground storage tanks (UST's) comply with federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state regulations by Dec. 22, or else he will be forced to shut down until the necessary changes are made, and could face fines of $25,000 per day the changes are not made.

The regulations affect primarily service stations, waste oil companies, and laboratories which use UST's to hold fuels or oils for storage, export or distribution purposes. Exempt from the regulations are home and business on-premise fuel and heating oil tanks.

The EPA established the regulations in 1989, to prevent leakage from the underground tanks, and prevent contamination of the natural resources around the tanks. Enforcement of the regulations lies with the state fire marshal's office, and by proxy with the local fire departments.

The fire marshal's office issued an emergency order which created new deadlines, that allows UST owners to make the necessary changes after Dec. 22. If these deadlines are not met, service station owners will be retroactively fined $25,000 per day, from the original deadline of Dec. 22 to the date the work is completed.

In cases where UST's must be removed, owners must have tank removal contracts signed by March 31, 1999, and complete removal by Sept. 30, 1999. In cases where UST's need upgrading, the upgrade contracts must be signed by Dec. 23, and all upgrades must be complete by June 30, 1999. Tanks must remain empty and unused between Dec. 23 and when they are brought into compliance with EPA regulations.

The holiday rush

According to the state fire marshal's office, the time extensions were given because the number of UST's not in compliance far exceeds the number which could undergo the needed changes by the original Dec. 22 date. Approximately 8,000 UST owners have not brought their tanks into compliance.

The great demand and impending deadline have created a situation akin to the rush of shoppers on the day before Christmas.

Galante had scheduled ENPRO Environmental Services of Newburyport to replace the tanks in August, during the summer lull. But the rush to comply with the regulations before the deadline has put companies performing tank replacements and modifications, including ENPRO, in high demand. As a result, ENPRO was unable to begin tank removal at Galante's until early November.

Although an inconvenience, Galante said the tank replacement is an unfortunate business necessity.

"It's a pain, it costs a lot of money, I curse about it, but I'm not crying poor-mouth," Galante said. "It has to be done the right way, this is the price of being in business."

Tougher town regulations

Under state and EPA rules, Galante only needed to upgrade his steel tanks in order to have them comply with the new regulations, but unlike Tewksbury UST owners, Wilmington UST owners operate under strict guidelines.

Galante is replacing two steel tanks, which under state and federal law are allowed with cathodic protection, but which under town law must be removed.

A Wilmington town by-law requires double-walled fiberglass tanks, whereas the EPA and state also allow double- and single-walled steel tanks with cathodic protection, and single-wall fiberglass tanks. Cathodic protection protects steel tanks from corrosive stray electrical currents in the soil.

EPA, state and town regs all require leak detection devices be placed on the tanks, to ensure that hazardous waste does not enter into the environment.

Wilmington took the initiative in creating strict UST regulations 10 years ago, with a town by-law that mirrored a Cape Cod town by-law. Because of this by-law, most Wilmington underground storage tanks already meet state and federal standards.

Officials in both towns said the new regulations will help prevent leaking fuel tanks, which have been a problem in the past.

"Nearly every gas station built in town in the last ten years has had some type of gas leakage contaminating the groundwater," Tewksbury Planning and Conservation Director Sean Sullivan said.

According to Sullivan, the Mobil and Getty on Rte. 38, the Mobil in the town center and the a Texaco station are just some of the stations in Tewksbury where leaky tanks released fuel which affected nearby groundwater.

"I hope the new regulations eliminate the problem, which have occurred over and over again," Sullivan said.

John Keeley, assistant Planning and Conservation Director in Wilmington, said Galante's, the Exxon on Rte. 38, and Joe Barry Oils are among the places where hazardous materials leaked and contaminated the areas around tanks.

A high price

Unlike other types of business, if a gas station loses its UST's, it loses its business. While a threat to any station's well being, it is especially a threat to independent stations such as Galante's.

Galante already missed out on Thanksgiving week, when he normally makes twice as much money as he would in a normal week. And every December day the station remains closed is another day of holiday traffic passing it by.

But on top of lost profits, Galante must pay nearly $120,000 to replace his tanks. This comes only five years after he had to pay $15,000 to install vapor recovery systems on his fuel pumps, which was a Massachusetts state law.

"It all comes out of my personal savings, I didn't go to the bank, I'm not subsidized," Galante said.

The cost of the tank replacement was increased by a problem familiar to residents of Salem Street and Salem Road - high water table levels. The water was located eight feet below the surface, while the tank had to be lowered 14 feet into the ground.

The water had to be pumped out of the ground and stored on site, and at one point three 22,000 gallon storage tanks sat on Galante's property. The water then had to be run through carbon filters, approved as clean by the state department's of Environmental Protection and Environmental Quality Engineering and returned to the ground. Galante estimates the water removal, storage and filtration cost him $25,000.

But Galante also runs a garage on his premises, which remains open while the tanks are replaced. As a result, Galante said there will still be presents under his Christmas tree this year.

"It offsets my losses, I'm fortunate I have some income," Galante said. "It could be a lot worse."

Galante said the Wilmington Conservation Commission and Fire Department were excellent to work with, and expects the station to reopen late this week or early next week.

WHS Band to perform in St. Pat's Day parade in D.C.

By: Colleen E. Murphy
Wilmington - There are many classes and activities at Wilmington High School which help to show off a student's talents. One of these activities is the Wilmington Wildcat Band which not only teaches students about music and performance, but also teaches students a lot about morals, which they will live by later on in their lives. Skills one learns include responsibility, cooperation, and care.

Ms. Barbara Mette is the director of the band. She has a lot of work during the year with the high school and middle school marching bands. She not only composes some pieces that the band performs, but she also teaches the band its marching skills, performance skills, and musical skills. "Being in the band has taught me a responsibility and has also made me more dependable," says Freshman Katie Murphy. She not only teaches students how to be better musicians but also stresses the importance of responsibility and team work in everything that they do. "I think that working together has made us a very close band, we are all friends. This has also made learning easier," said Junior Richie Selig. The band members feel that band has made them stronger students, and that they have learned a lot from it. They have also found that band was one of the most enjoyable experiences of their high school career. Ms. Mette has also grown as more of a friend to the students instead of a teacher. "Ms. Mette is one of the best teachers at the high school. She not only teaches us music, but also to be better people," Senior Kathleen Haynes.

This year the band and colorguard together consist of 103 members. The band is going to be losing 25 seniors at the end of the year. The Drum Majors of the Wilmington High School Band are Senior Chris Murray and Junior Scott Neville. The President is Tim Smith, and the Vice President is Sabrina

READY TO MARCH ON WASHINGTON! - The WHS marching band, seen here performing at halftime during the Halloween football game, will take part in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in the nation's capital next year.

Shattuck.

The colorguard directors are Michelle Vigliotti and Marsha Jones. The colorguard has done a wonderful job this year adding to the visual affect on the football field. They have worked hard on their routine and it has definitely shown. The choreographers of the colorguard are Amy Horan and Lena Jones. The choreographer of the rifle squad is Chrissy Brown. The Half time show this year was a tribute to the Broadway musical "Little Shop of Horrors". The songs that the band played on the field were "Little Shop of Horrors", "Somewhere That's Green" featuring a trumpet solo by Sabrina Shattuck, and "Mean Green Mother from Outer Space".

This year the band was invited to march in the St. Patrick's Day parade in Washington D.C. This is certainly a great honor, and something that the band members are very proud of. In the past the band members have also marched in several other parades that have been a great honor. In 1993, the band marched in the St. Patrick's Day parade in Washington D.C. and in 1996 the band marched down Main Street U.S.A. in Disney World.

One special tradition that the band has is at the Halloween game the band members dress up in costumes for the halftime show. This adds a little bit of comedy and creativity for their show. This is also something that many people look forward to seeing, because they never know what to expect!

The band has done a great job this year, and there is no doubt that they will continue to do a great job. I would like to wish them good luck in their upcoming performances, and congratulate them for their invitation to the nation's capital.

High School crafts fair a success

By: KATIE MURPHY

Wilmington - On Saturday December 5th, the High School's annual craft fair was held. There were many tables, including homemade and handmade crafts. Many clubs in the high school also donated to the craft fair.

The Medical Careers club sold First Aid Kits for the car, candy, and also did face painting. The Foreign Language Club sold baked goods such as Brownies and Cookies. The Wildcat News Staff held a White Elephant Sale.

The Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes also contributed to the fair. The Senior class held the senior café which was the food stand at the Christmas Fair. The Junior Class sold cotton candy, homemade Santa heads, and did babysitting for little kids. The Sophomore class sold candy, and Wildcat decals. The Freshman class sold homemade cookies and also sold balloons. Overall I think all the classes and clubs did a wonderful job, and hopefully made some money to help support their clubs.

The individual people selling their own crafts did a great job. I would like to wish the crafters good luck in their upcoming sales, and I would like to wish WHS good luck in their future Christmas Fairs!

Diorio and Senarian WHS students of the month

WILMINGTON - Robin Diorio is the daughter of James and Cheryl Diorio and David Senarian, son of Gary and Patricia Senarian, have been designated Seniors of the Month for November at Wilmington High School.

Robin is actively involved in many school activities. She is the president of SADD and the World Language Club, secretary of Student Council, a member of the academic decathlon, co-captain of cross country, member of National Honor Society and student representative on the school committee.

She volunteers two hours a week to mentor younger band members and volunteers two hours a week at her church. She has applied for early admission to Boston College and plans to apply to Syracuse University, University of New Hampshire and Tufts University. She hopes to major in engineering and minor in music.

David participates in varsity wrestling and was captain of the golf team. He is a member of the Student Council and works part time at Market Basket. David hopes to attend Bentley in the fall to major in marketing.

THE REALTOR AS A GO-BETWEEN
People who try to sell their own homes begin to appreciate the expertise of professional Realtors as soon as their first offer comes in. They want to sell their home, and they have found prospects who want to buy. But what happens next?
When the negotiating process begins, things can get "sticky." First, there are personalities involved, and real estate transactions rarely bring out the best in people. The buyers may seem unreasonable if they make an offer that is considerably less than the sellers are willing to accept. At that point the buyers may become offended by the sellers' attitude. When professional Realtors are involved, the process is much less adversarial. The two parties see very little of each other until the rough edges have been smoothed out and there has been a meeting of the minds. Good Realtors know how to keep personalities out of the transaction and to help both sides reach a mutually agreeable compromise.

MCAS Test results for Tewksbury and Wilmington released

The results of the May 1998 Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System (MCAS) were released by the state Department of Education on Wednesday, and results indicate that although local schools fared well in comparison to state results, over half of the students from both towns produced less than desired results.

The MCAS was administered to students in grades four, eight and ten, and assessed them in the areas of English/Language Arts, Mathematics and Science & Technology. This was the inaugural MCAS test, and will serve as the standard against which all future MCAS tests will be judged.

Test results show each town performing better than state standards. Each had a smaller percentage of students fail the tests than the state expected, and also had greater numbers place as advanced than the state expected.

But the MCAS also shows that both towns had higher percentages of students in need of improvement than the number the state had set. Although fourth graders placed higher than the state percentages in terms of Math and Science, there were an average of 11 percent more students in grades eight and ten who needed improvement in math and science than the state expected.

Overall, more than half of students from both towns rated as failing or in need of improvement.

Students results were rated as "Failing," "Needs Improvement," "Proficient," and "Advanced." The levels describe what students in each level can do, based on their responses to multiple choice and open ended questions in the test.

Students whose results place them as "Failing" demonstrate minimal understanding of the subject matter and do not solve simple problems. Students whose results place them as "Needs Improvement" demonstrate partial understanding of subject matter and solve simple problems. Students at the "Proficient" level demonstrate a solid understanding of challenging subject matter and solve a wide variety of problems, and students at the "Advanced" level demonstrate a comprehensive and in-depth understanding of rigorous subject matter and provide sophisticated solutions to complex problems.

Tewksbury Schools will hold information sessions regarding the MCAS results. Grade four results will be discussed on Thursday, Dec. 10 in the North St. Library at 7 p.m.; Tuesday, Dec. 15 in the Trahan Library at 7 p.m.; and Wednesday, Dec. 16 in the Dewing School Library at 7 p.m. Grade eight and ten results will be discussed on Monday, Dec. 14 in Tewksbury Memorial High School at 7 p.m.

At the meetings, teachers will review the scores, identify areas of strength and weakness of students and the curriculum, and review the comparison of student performance on the multiple choice and open response questions. Parents unable to attend these meetings should contact the schools and arrange for alternative times.

Wilmington Superintendent Dr. Geraldine O'Donnell will analyze the test results with the Wilmington Leadership Team over the next few weeks and will provide reports and recommendations at the regularly scheduled School Committee meetings.

"We need to take the initiative in using the MCAS results as a catalyst for building support from school staff, parents, and community for changes necessary to improve student achievement," Dr. O'Donnell said.

"Pothole" fund isn't for roads

Wilmington gets $85,000 from state for schools

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON-The school system received an early Christmas present from the state's "Pothole Money" last week.

Rep. Jim Miceli announced on Thursday that the town was awarded $85,000 of the $4 million Fiscal Year 1999 Foundation Reserve Program, a.k.a. pothole money, a competitive grant which 351 cities and towns across the state fought to get a piece of. Neither Tewksbury, Andover or Burlington received pothole money.

"I am very pleased that I have played a role in furthering the educational opportunities for the youth of Wilmington," Miceli said.

The money will either be used to purchase a new heating system for the Boutwell School, or new textbooks for the town's middle school students, but is not adequate to fund both projects.

"We'll meet with town hall to maximize the effectiveness of this funding," said school director of Administration and Finance Brad Jackson.

The Boutwell school's heating system is not broken, and the kids there are not cold, but the system is no longer adequate to serve the building, Jackson said. The heating system is 30 years old.

Middle school students in grades six through eight already have new math, foreign language and English language arts textbooks, but still need new science and social studies books, Jackson said.

Jackson said that whatever the money is used for, its being awarded to Wilmington reflects the school's strong proposal.

"It was a concerted effort by everyone involved to bring much needed funds to the school department," Jackson said.

Jackson also said he was grateful to state legislators Miceli, Rep. Charles Murphy and Sen. Bruce Tarr, who were very supportive of the Wilmington schools.

"It was great working with this school committee and administration, they put together a fine grant application," Miceli said.

The Pothole money is not associated with roadway improvements, but is so named because it is an emergency fund. Tewksbury was a recipient of Pothole money last year.

HOPE offered

William F. Belladue

Long time resident of Tewksbury

TEWKSBURY - William F. Belladue, 37, died Friday evening, December 4, 1998 at Saints Memorial Medical Center in Lowell after suffering an apparent heart attack at his Burgess Street residence.

Born in Boston August 9, 1961, he was raised the son of Margaret J. (Madden) and Maurice A. Sheehan of Tewksbury. He lived in Tewksbury most of his life and moved to Billerica and Arizona before returning to the Lowell area two years ago.

He was employed as a truck driver for the Old Dominion Freight Company's Lowell terminal.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two daughters, Sabrina R. Belladue and Alicia M. Belladue, both students at the Ditson Elementary School in Billerica; three brothers, Thomas E. Belladue of Lowell, Tewksbury Police Officers Michael Sheehan and Timothy Sheehan both of Tewksbury; four sisters, Joan M. Belladue of Nottingham, N.H., Leanne Winchester and Mary Armstrong both of Tyngsboro and Sharon Giannakas of Lowell, a maternal grandmother, Irene Collins of Salem, N.H., many aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, and his former wife Deborah Forn-Belladue of Billerica.

A funeral mass was celebrated Wednesday morning in St. William's Church followed by committal services in Tewksbury Cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Mary A. Fennessey

daughter in Wilmington

SOMERVILLE - Mary A. (Holland) Fennessey, 89, of Somerville, widow of John J. Fennessey, died Wednesday, December 2, 1998.

She was the mother of Lawrence J. Fennessey of Seabrook, N.H., Dorothy F. Barrett of Wilmington and Gerald E. Fennessey of Andover and the sister Catherine Spiers of Florida. Eleven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Fennessey was also the sister of the late Alice Bonnell, L. Frank Holland, John J. and William J. Holland.

Born in Somerville March 4, 1909, she was a lifelong resident of that city and was employed as a clerical worker by the Visiting Nurse Association of Somerville for 20 years. She was a member of St. Clements Catholic Daughters and St. Clements Mothers Club.

Funeral services under the direction of the George L. Doherty Funeral Service, Inc. of Somerville, were held Saturday, December 5 at 11 a.m. followed by interment in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Donations made in her memory to the Visiting Nurse Assoc., 162 Highland Ave., Somerville, MA 02143 will be appreciated.

Paul H. Hanson

37 years with M. Sharf Company

HAMPTON, N.H. - Paul H. Hanson, formerly of Wilmington, died Saturday, Dec. 5, 1998 at Seacoast Health Center in Hampton.

Born in Davenport, Iowa August 16, 1920, he was the son of the late Urvan and Maude (Stem) Hanson, and lived in Wilmington, for many years, where he graduated of Wilmington High School and married the former Ann M. (Doucette) Hanson.

Mr. Hanson served with the U.S. Army, attaining the rank of corporal and was employed as a shipper for the M. Sharf Co. in Somerville, for 37 years. He moved from Wilmington to Seabrook, where he retired in 1982.

Among the things he enjoyed were feeding birds, reading and the ocean.

In addition to his wife, of 48 years, Mr. Hanson is survived by a son, Paul H. Hanson, Jr. of Beacon, N.Y.; a daughter, Ann M. Alicandro of Dracut; a granddaughter, Kirman C. Hanson of Beacon; and a sister, Carol L. Hanson (also formerly of Wilmington) of Nokomis, Fla.

A memorial mass was celebrated at Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal Church, Hampton, N.H. Wednesday morning. Interment followed at the New Hampshire State Veteran's Cemetery, Boscawen, at a later date.

Donations made in his memory to the Seacoast Hospice, 10 Hampton Road, Exeter, N.H. 03833 will be appreciated.

Arrangements were under the direction of the Remick & Gendron Funeral Home of Hampton, N.H.

Anna T. Hennessy

life-long fan of General Hospital

WILMINGTON - Mrs. Anna T. (Callucci) Hennessy, a resident of Wilmington for over 50 years, died Sunday, December 6, 1998 at Saint's Memorial Hospital in Lowell following a lengthy illness.

Born in Woburn, she was the daughter of the late John and Teresa M. (Vericella) Callucci. She spent her youth in Woburn, attended Woburn Schools and graduated from Woburn High School.

Her many hobbies included woodworking, crafts, crocheting and being an avid, life-long fan of "General Hospital."

Mrs. Hennessy considered her greatest accomplishment was her "Career" as a caretaker. She was a loving and devoted wife, mother, grandmother and had an extended family to which she showed much kindness.

She was the widow of William J. Hennessy and is survived by her children William J. and Deborah A. Hennessy of Tyngsboro, Beverly A. Sullivan and Edward W. Morgan of Wilmington; her grandchildren, Michael P. and Wendy Hennessy of Lowell, Tami J. Hennessy of Tyngsboro, Lisa M. and Colin J. Sullivan and Amanda M. Morgan all of Wilmington.

She was the sister of the late Margaret M. Murray.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hennessy were held from the Nichols Funeral Home of Wilmington Thursday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church and interment in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery. Memorial donations may be made to the charity of one's choice.

Robert Dean Olson

life long interest in travel and music

TEWKSBURY - Robert Dean Olson, 25, died Thursday evening, December 3, 1998, at Children's Hospital in Boston, surrounded by his family, after a lifelong battle with Cystic Fibrosis (C.F.).

Born in Lowell July 2, 1973, he was the son of Deborah L. MacLean-Olson of Tewksbury and the late Robert E. Olson Jr. who died September 10, 1997.

He was a resident of Tewksbury most of his life and lived in southern California for a brief period before illness forced his return. He was currently enrolled at Middlesex Community College in Lowell.

Bobby or Rob as he was affectionately known throughout his life was an avid traveler when his health permitted, and a musician who had a life long interest in many styles and cultures of music.

In addition to his mother, he leaves his maternal grandmother Patricia A. (Smith) MacLean of Daytona Beach, Fla, his paternal grandparents Esther Mac "Sis" (Shaw) and her husband Carl Ganshirt of Seabrook, N.H., Robert E. "Cigars" and his wife Kelly Olson of Ormond Beach, Fla., aunts and uncles include Sharon and Dennis Carpenter of Maine, Sally and Charlie Lojek of Wilmington, Shirley Olson of N.H., Wayne Olson of Lowell, Alexander and Janice Olson of Tewksbury and Robin and Edward McDevitt of N.H., John and Roberta Deputat of Tewksbury, cousins and many friends.

He also leaves many friendships with the staff at Children's Hospital in Boston, developed during his lifetime of treatments for C.F.

He was also the grandson of the late James Dean MacLean who died in 1993.

Funeral services, under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home were held Sunday afternoon in the Tewksbury Congregational Church. Committal services were private.

Lorraine T. Welch

worked for J.C. Penney's, Wilmington

TEWKSBURY - Lorraine T. (Sinclair) Welch, 64, died peacefully, at her Tewksbury residence Thursday, December 3, 1998. She was the wife of Edward A. Welch, with whom she celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary last July 15.

Born in East Boston, she was the daughter of the late William and Margaret (Landry) Sinclair. She was raised in East Boston and graduated from Fitton High School in Boston. She lived in Somerville before moving to Tewksbury and in earlier years worked as an insurance underwriter for the John Hancock Insurance Company in Boston for more than 17 years. After moving to Tewksbury, she was employed at J.C. Penney's in Wilmington and later at the Commercial Bank and Trust Company in both Lowell and Wilmington. Since retirement, she has been an active gardener.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two sons and daughters-in-law, Thomas E. and Lauri Welch of New York City and Michael J. and Mechele (Smith) Welch of Peabody; two brothers and sisters-in-law, William "Sonny" and Carole Sinclair Jr. of Revere, Kevin and Judy Sinclair of West Peabody; a sister and brother-in-law, Carol and Roger Dube of Saugus, and several nieces and nephews.

Her funeral service was held Monday, December 7 at 9:30 a.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home. Burial followed in Pine Grove Cemetery in Lynn.

Wilmington Library Notes

Looks Like Christmas

WILMINGTON - Thanks to the Wilmington Garden Club for the beautiful evergreen wreaths on the front of the library building. While the Garden Club transformed the outside of the library into a colonial Christmas postcard, the Friends were busy on Friday evening December 5 decorating the main floor of the library. Grapevine wreaths with red bows and tiny books of evergreen centerpieces that were made by the Friends give a holiday glow to the main floor. The bright red poinsettia plants were donated by Main Street Florists, Yentiles, Designs by Don and Maple Meadow Gardens. Thanks to our local florists for this holiday donation and to all the Friends who helped with the holiday decorating.

Preschool holiday party
The annual holiday party for preschoolers and their families will be held Wednesday, December 16 at 10 a.m. Christmas stories, finger plays, and the traditional singing of Jingle Bells will be part of the festivities. Holiday punch and cookies will be served. Small contributions of cookies, as always, are appreciated!

Holiday help from the library
There are many ways that the library can help you enjoy and prepare for the holidays. The Children's Department has a wide variety of Christmas books for you to share with your children. The beautiful illustrations in the picture books bring to life holiday scenes and traditions.

If you are looking for holiday music, the library's compact disc collection includes favorite Christmas Carols. From the video collection, one can borrow Mrs. Santa Claus, Miracle on 34th Street, Dr. Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas and many other classic and favorite titles. Whether it's Christmas cookies or hors d'oeuvres, the library's cookbook collection has the recipes you need for holiday entertaining. If you want to check the Internet for Christmas information, try the website www.christmas98.com.

Bookends

Bookends members who met on Thursday, December 3 gave the book Midnight in the Garden of Good & Evil mixed reviews. The final vote was two thumbs up, two thumbs down, and two sideways.

Bookends will start the new year with a new roster of books beginning with The Woman in White by Wilkie Collins. Copies of this book are available at the library. Bookends, the library's book discussion group, meets on the first Thursday of the month from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the library's conference room.

Special Giving Tree to help fill Christmas needs for seniors

WILMINGTON - A special tree has been set up at the Buzzell Senior Center to fill the needs of seniors this year. The "Giving Tree" has ornaments with needs, such as holiday plant, scarf and mittens, gift certificate for a local grocery store, stamps or many other items. Townsfolk are welcome to stop by the Senior Center and select an ornament to fulfil. The wrapped gift should then be returned to the center for distribution before Christmas.

Anyone knowing a senior in need of an item or two should contact the center at 657-7595 for information on how to get their need on the "Giving Tree"

The letter from Bruce Transportation to the Wilmington School Committee delivered Wednesday, 4 p.m to the Town Crier

9 December 1998

To: Wilmington School Committee
Attn: Mrs. Suzanne Rooney, Chairperson

Dear Suzanne,

Per your request over the telephone, 8 December 1998, I am sending the following list of items to you:

1. Copy of my 13 November 1998 letter to Brad Jackson (with several enclosures)
2. Report of Operations 15-21 November 1998
3. Report of Operations 15-21 November 1998
4. Report of Operations 29 November - 5 December 1998
5. Report of Operations 6-9 December 1998 (thru today)

As you can see by the Report of Operations (the four listed above and the three Reports of Operations enclosures in Brad's letter), we have been nearly flawless since the School Board meeting of 28 October 1998. Actually, the last time we have doubled a run or sold a charter off to another company was 22 October 1998. If you were to do the math compilations, you would find that since the week before the School Board meeting, we have had 224,000 opportunities to pick up or discharge students and we have had ZERO ERRORS. The 224,000 opportunities was derived at by the following formula:

-completed 160 runs per day x 35 days + 5,600 runs.
-5,600 runs x 40 students (average per run) = 224,000 student pick-up/drop-off opportunities.

Since the beginning of the school year, we have had 460,800 opportunities to handle the Wilmington school children. Doesn't it seem strange that our company is being labeled as a poor performer, when in fact, there are only a handful of problems that have occurred (besides the occasional doubling, which took place earlier in our start-up). The 460,800 opportunities was derived at by the following formula:

-completed 160 runs per day x 72 days + 11,520 runs.
-11,520 runs x 40 students (average per run) = 460,800 student pick-up/drop-off opportunities.

It is very disconcerting, and demoralizing that with all that hard work and long hours, which the Bruce Transportation Leadership Team, and the Professional School Bus Operators have put in since the beginning of the award date, we continue to be viewed by some in the School system as not a good company. We have handled over 460,800 student pick-up/drop-off opportunities safely, injury free, and professionally. I think someone should say "thank you," other than the parents on the street (who have thanked us often, while questioning what is going on here), rather than continue the unfair and demoralizing assault on the professional employees at Bruce Transportation Group, Inc.

You have heard from several of the drivers who work for us now, and who used to work for the other company. They stated that they are enjoying working for BTG more than the other company, that they are worried about losing us, and that the other company had all the same problems (and in many cases, more) that we have experienced.

Even with all the unfair, negative publicity being generated by those who did not want Bruce Transportation Group from the beginning, the team of professionals at our company's Wilmington Division continue to rise above the controversy and "do our jobs" professionally, day in and day out. Our own pride, the concern for the children's safety, and the love for the children of the Wilmington School System, will have to serve as a sufficient return on our time investment in Wilmington.

Sincerely,
Bruce Transportation Group, Inc.

pany. The school department could not produce one single document, nothing, no copies of any information" said Michaud.

"We've done all the training, we've got all the routes filled, we've got surplus drivers now. We've done everything that needs to be done to run a smooth future operation." Michaud stated.

At the School Committee meeting of November 18th Michaud delivered a letter to the committee, which was read in executive session. Michaud declined to provide the Town Crier a copy of the letter, however he did say: "Our suggestion, was we believe the agenda is different than ours, poll your committee to verify, and if in fact it is that it is that way, if our perception is correct, we would recommend allowing us to find a bus company to come in and take over the contract, with the approval of the school committee, if that is what their agenda is. They wrote back saying after reviewing our letter, (saying) yes they're interested in pursuing our position that if you don't want us, we'll help you to find someone else at no cost to the school committee" Michaud stated.

When asked to verify the status of Bruce Transportation, Brad Jackson, Director of Administration and Finance for the Wilmington School Department said: "If these discussions were taking place, that would be in executive session, and I would be unable to comment" he stated.

Bruce Transportation is also in the first year of a bus contract for the North Reading School Department. "Things are running smooth now" said Business Manager Roger Young. "We had some problems in the beginning, Bruce Transportation told us they were having a problem covering routes, they asked us to be patient, we tried to work things out, and we did. With the busing of students, there will always be a few problems" Young stated.

The Town Crier contacted 12 school departments which use Bruce Transportation, and each of the superintendents spoken with was happy with the services of Bruce Transportation.

Explaining the awards

Every year I do this, but then again every year people still ask questions about it, so it doesn't hurt to explain it again.

Since I became the sports editor back in 1994, I came up with the idea of having a coach of the year award as well as a female and male athlete of the year awards in both towns, Wilmington and Tewksbury.

I got the idea back in 1993 when I was a reporter here and long time friend and former sports editor here, Rick Cooke, gave me an assignment of a feature on Adrienne Fay, the best athlete in town of Wilmington at the time. So I put two-and-two together and have done the awards ever since. Once again it doesn't matter what school or what league the coach, or the athletes play at/in, as long as they live in either Wilmington or Tewksbury.

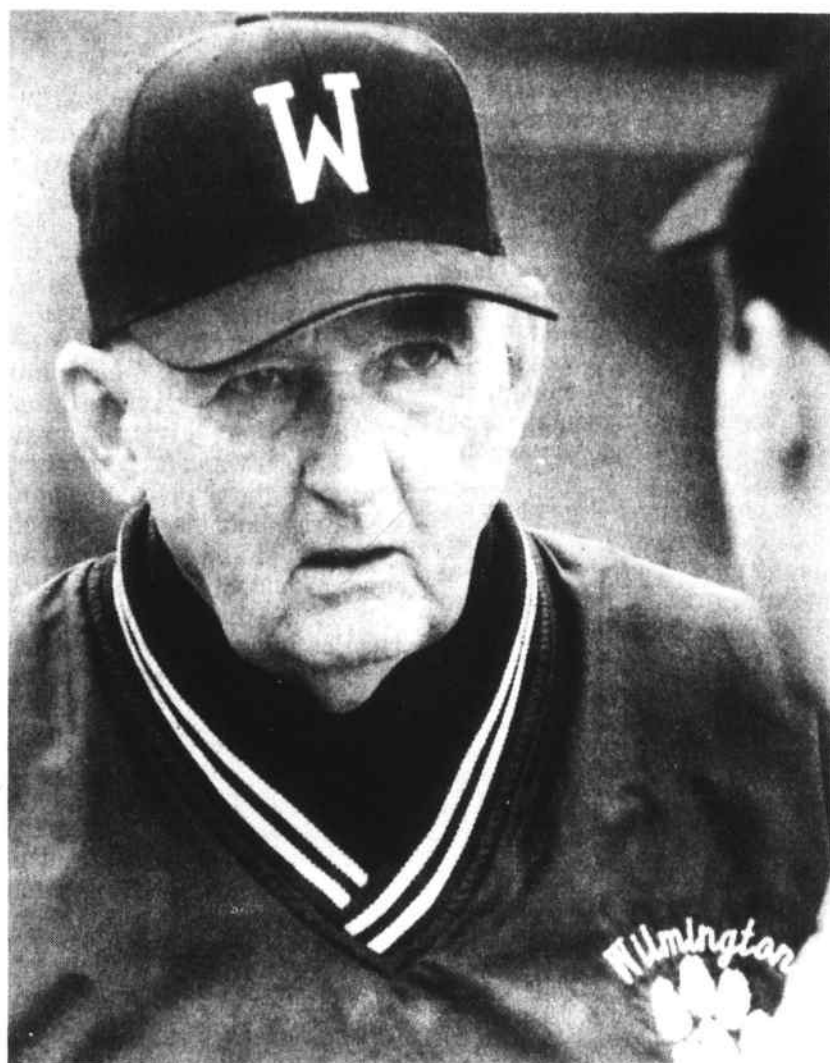

So every December, starting with the second week, we give out the awards to close the year out. The we is the Town Crier sports staff that includes Jamie Pote, Jeff Nazzaro, Jess Martin and Amy Peterson, who pick the winners. Reader input doesn't hurt either.

Not only do I think it's a good idea, but these awards recognize those who really deserve it. Certainly these awards are given to those who have more than their athletic abilities, character, up until when the award is given, is big with these awards.

Wilmington Coach of the Year – Dick Scanlon

By JEFF NAZZARO
Sports Correspondent

If it seems like every time you look up Dick Scanlon is coaching another Wilmington High School team to a North Sectional Championship and beyond, it's because he is: three-in-a-row starting with 1997's run at a state soccer crown and a neat twofer in calendar year 1998. The latter accomplishments of course make Scanlon the hands-down choice to once again be the Town Crier's Coach of the Year. At 66 years of age and approaching his 29th year of coaching high school athletics, Scanlon has evolved well beyond a younger man's preoccupation with on-field results. He continues to coach because this is his life and he likes it. "It's really interesting," he noted with the conviction that has earned him the respect of a long line of Wilmington athletes and students. "This is the way my life's been for the last 30 years. It's enjoyable. It's long since past the time that I get all excited about wins and losses. I coach because I enjoy it." Of course, wins are always more exciting and enjoyable than losses. Like any coach, Scanlon has had his share of ups and downs, and the fact that he's currently enjoying the biggest of ups hasn't let him forget the down times. "It makes you appreciate it all the more when you do have good clubs," he said. Scanlon played baseball at Wakefield High School and Boston College. In 1968 he joined the Social Studies Department at Wilmington High School, where he has taught psychology, sociology and history during his tenure. He entered the coaching ranks in 1970, taking the baseball job at Austin Prep and staying there for one year, after which he returned to alma mater Wakefield High and coached for four years. Then it was back to Austin, where he coached baseball until the Wilmington High job opened up in 1980. If as an educator and varsity college baseball veteran Scanlon made the perfect hardball coaching candidate, his soccer credentials were a little less well defined. In Scanlon's school days, collegiate soccer was still an inchoate creature, much as it would be in the high school ranks in the 1970's. While at BC, however, Scanlon did play intramural soccer in a program started and run by a teacher from Poland. "It was more recreational than it was intense at all, but I did learn some stuff about the game and that's how I kind of got interested in it," Scanlon said. In 1979 he became assistant coach at Wilmington to Bill Peabody, who resigned two years later. Scanlon has been at the helm ever since. "I've had some good soccer teams but no teams that have been as good as the last two years," he said. "We had some outstanding individual players previous to that and we had some very good teams." But it has been in the mid-to-late-90's that the program has emerged. The same could be said of the baseball team, which won its first North Sectional last spring. In 1990 Scanlon took the soccer team to its first North Championship and a loss in the state semifinals. After that, he said, the team would make the state tournament every other year but kept getting knocked out early. The difficulty lay in the high school's decreasing population while trying to compete in the booming Merrimack Valley Conference of the late 80's and early 90's. "Our problem both in baseball and in soccer was getting into the tournament. When we moved to the Cape Ann League four years ago it gave us more of an opportunity to get in," he said, while noting an increase in the level of competition amongst the upper-echelon CAL teams, especially in soccer. "Now the good teams in the Cape Ann are just as good as the good teams in the MVC," he says. "That was not true 10 years ago." What that means to Scanlon's teams is a best-of-both-worlds kind of scenario: good competition at the top and a relatively easy path to the post-season at the bottom. And his charges have made the most of it, routinely saving their best for the tourney. "The last two years we've had a good group of kids who played really hard as a team," he says. "They seemed to play better in the tournament. They were beating teams in the tourney that would have struggled with in the regular season." Scanlon identifies the single most important on-field attribute of his soccer teams in a word: defense. Not coincidentally, it is the ingredient he singles out as most crucial come tournament time. "I think we were very strong defensively. We had [goalkeeper] Tim Flynn for three years and very good defenders," he said, noting Jeff Arciero, an EMass All-Star and senior on the '97 team and Mark DiGiovanni and Dan Sweet, both seniors on this year's squad. "We've been blessed with some good defenders." After a somewhat slow start, the soccer team finished the regular season with a 12-4-2 record and then reeled off four straight tournament victories, including a 2-1 win over Weston in the Div. 3 North Final. Scanlon said he agrees to a point with the characterization by some of his soccer teams as collections of so many unskilled, hard workers, but only to a point. "It's true to a degree but wrong to a degree," he said. "We're capable of playing a skilled game. We lean on our strength, which is being an aggressive team but we do have some skilled players who do well." He held up Justin Vallas and Kevin Forgett as examples of skilled players before stating what he feels is the definitive factor: "Perspiration, not inspiration wins games for you," he said. "I can't say enough about this team and last year's in terms of work ethic." The tournament run for this year's group came to an abrupt halt in overtime again, midway in what Scanlon called "the craziest game I've ever been involved in." With 51 seconds to play in regulation it appeared the Cats had won the game with a goal by Dennis Ingram. Twenty seconds later it was tied and four minutes into OT it was all over. "I've never seen this happen before," he said. SCANLON PAGE 19

Redmen Bantam B's score big in T-Day Tourney

On the Friday after Thanksgiving the TYSA Bantam B team traveled to Highgate, Vermont for the first game of the annual Thanksgiving Tournament hosted by the Essex Sting.

The Redmen faced off against the Albany Capitols and took control when Craig Boyle scored the first goal unassisted. Before the end of the first period both Chris McLellan and Donny McLaren scored for the Redmen with assists going to Billy Ward, Dave McCoy and Jason Tamburello.

Albany scored twice in the second period narrowing Tewksbury's lead. Craig Boyle scored again unassisted increasing Tewksbury's score to four.

In the third period the defense kept Albany from scoring anymore and Donny McLaren with the help of Dave McCoy scored Tewksbury's fifth and final goal. Redmen won 5-2.

Later the same day the Redmen played their hosts the Essex Sting on the Sting's home ice. Tewksbury's defense was very strong and both goalies Eric McDermott and Chris Gatti earned shutouts as the Sting was unable to score.

The Redmen scored twice in the first period Chris McLellan was assisted by Jason Tamburello and Donny McLaren had help from teammate Matt Soni.

In the third period Billy Ward scored the third goal of the game assisted by Chris McLellan, in turn Billy assisted Chris for goal four. Craig Boyle was assisted by Bobby Giasullo. Matt Soni scored the sixth goal of the game with the help of Donny McLaren. Donny scored the seventh goal with assists going to Matt Soni and Craig Boyle.

Despite the fact that Tewksbury had a comfortable lead that didn't stop the offense from still pushing and in the third period the eighth goal was scored by Nick Daloia, unassisted.

The championship game was undoubtedly the most exciting of the tournament. The Redmen played the Albany Capitols in Essex Junction. Tewksbury's Billy Ward scored within the first minute of the game off a pass from Chris McLellan. Matt Soni scored the second goal before the first period was over with assistance from Dave McCoy.

In the second period the Capitols scored once, Craig Boyle scored the third and final goal for Tewksbury, unassisted.

Tewksbury was leading by two goals going into the third period, and Albany scored once more, causing Tewksbury's defense to remain strong and despite several attempts, the Capitols could not score any more and the Redmen left Vermont holding championship trophies.

Susan Finney coaches Nor'easters Synchronized Skating

In last weeks issue, regrettably, information about the coach of the preliminary level squad of the Nor'easters Synchronized Skating Team, Susan Finney, was omitted. Susan is also a nationally recognized coach, having worked with Doreen Trunfio (the coach of the intermediate level Nor'easters team) as assistant coach of the national champion Ice Cubes of Lexington for the past 14 years.

Susan is married to Rick Finney, lives in Amesbury and recently gave birth to their first child, a daughter, Amber Lynn.

Tewksbury Braves improve performance vs Blackhawks

A stellar defensive effort was turned in by Justin Nichols, Stephen Sheehan, and Billy Medugno of the Tewksbury Instructional Braves, managing to hold off a very strong North Middlesex offense, during this much anticipated rematch vs the "undefeated" Blackhawks. The Braves gave it their all, but fell short by one goal in a very exciting contest this past Sunday morning. The Blackhawks were looking for an easy win, after defeating the Braves just two weeks ago, but the entire team was tough shift after shift.

North Middlesex found the back of the net early in the first period, but that was it as both teams continued to play tough and battle hard at both ends of the ice. The score remained 1-0 until midway through the second period when "sniper" Christopher Tully broke in from center ice and fired one home to tie the game at 1-1. The game remained tied, with both teams fighting valiantly for the "game winner."

Tewksbury had some good chances, including a nice Cameron Doherty rush, where he was literally assaulted and hauled down from behind as he headed toward the net. Somehow the "ref" missed the call which would have given the Braves a power play opportunity. This was a tough break for the Braves, especially since they had just been called for a penalty moments earlier.

The Blackhawks were able to light the lamp one more time late in the third period and became the eventual victors by a score of 2-1. Although the Braves didn't get the win, the entire team should be proud of their efforts in this very exciting and very close game.

Goalie Jimmy Petipas had another excellent outing in the net, coming up with several big saves, including a couple of nice breakaway attempts, keeping Tewksbury in the game. Forwards Chris Tully, Michael Cooney, Shawn Leonard, Evan Cutelis, Cameron Doherty, Matt Donahue, Zach Zicko, Josh White, and Andrew Stanley all played well, doing a good job keeping in position.

The Braves take on the Night-hawks next Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Janas Rink.

Tewksbury Youth Skating Bantam B wins Tournament Championship

Mite A's keep perfect record at home despite loss in Tourney

The Tewksbury Mite A's sponsored by DynaWave suffered their first Dual State loss of the season to Melrose 3-1 this past Tuesday. However, after a grueling practice Saturday they bounced back to defeat a tough Lynnfield team 6-5 on Sunday and preserve their perfect record in the Valley League.

Maybe they were still tired from their Vermont Thanksgiving extravaganza. Maybe it was due to the late (6:45 p.m.) game time. Maybe it was that Hockeytown mystique. Whatever the reason, the Redmen just looked a little flat against Melrose. They were pumping their legs, but they just didn't seem to be getting anywhere. Even still, they were tied at one goal into the third period. Zach Johnson scored the only Tewksbury goal of the game as he blew past a defenseman and banked one in high off the short side post. I think the next time these two teams meet, Melrose is in for a big surprise.

Back in what has somehow become our customary 6 a.m. time slot, the Redmen played a great game against division rival Lynnfield (just ask the Patriots how important those division games are). Eric Major started things off as he and John Hyslip broke in two on zero. John hit Eric with a touch pass (I guess that's what you call it when both guys are touching the puck at the same time) that looked more like a handoff (gotta spread out guys) and Eric slid it in along the ice.

Eric Major returned the favor a few shifts later when he dug the puck out of a big pile in front of John Hyslip who flipped it over that pile to tie the game at two. Jimmy Fitzpatrick, Chris Noyes and Joey Napolitano crashed the net and played a little puck pinball until Jimmy finally jammed it in. It looked like the coaches had a major gadget play when goaltender Billy Stuart skated to center ice as they lined up for the ensuing faceoff, but Billy was just trying to get the referee to recenter the net in his crease (gotta know where those pipes are). Scotty Carparo celebrated his return to the ice (cast and all) with a shorthanded goal. Eric Major kept the puck in to John Hyslip for a little "dipsy doodle" move in front and Scotty fired in the rebound.

Zach Johnson did a lot of hard work along the boards and came away with the puck. He appeared to slide the puck cleanly through the goalie's legs and into the net, but the referee detected an Eric Major tip. Neil Marino was right there, but when asked claimed that he (not Eric) had tipped it in. A lesser man might have called for "instant replay," but Zach just congratulated Eric on his second (and ultimate game winning) goal.

The defense played tough in the third period as Lynnfield pulled out all the stops in trying to catch up. Billy Stuart came up with a number of good saves, Danny Grasso defused a three on one and Chris DiIorio dug in at the blue line and caused a major train wreck. Bobby Bennett joined the usual "Blue Line Corps" of DiIorio, Grasso, Little and Lyons and did a good job (for a forward). The "injured reserve" list was cleared (although just barely judging by Lindsay Picano's nose and chin) for the first time this season, so everyone will be getting a turn on D.

Grade 6 Hoop Wildcats defeat Indians 43-24

The Wilmington Wildcats went on the warpath defeating the Billerica Indians 43-24, this past Saturday.

Eric Ollila led all scorers with 13 followed closely by Derek Concannon with nine. Matt Stewart stepped his game up a notch with solid control ball handling and a plethora of assists. Ryan Quigley was tough on the glass and added five points to the cause. Anthony Azevedo "punched in" for a day on the job as the tough center worked tirelessly for loose balls and rebounds.

With the Indians over the limit in both halves, the Wildcats foul shooting problems continued as they "purred" for an anemic 37 percent (7 for 18) from the charity stripe. Danny McWilliams was high man for Billerica with 10 and would have had more if not for defensive pests Mark Giordano and Ray "the waterbug" Gravellese. Forward Danny Reed pumped in six and hustled everywhere to help out his teammates. Scott Hanson continued his aggressive play at both ends of the floor. Brian Cairra scored a big second half basket but had to leave the game early with a minor injury. Speed merchant Joe Mayo had several big breakaways with the Indians nipping at his heels.

The win improved the Wildcats' Merrimack Valley League record to 2-2. They return to action December 10 with a non-league game at Reading and continue the road trip Saturday, Dec. 12 against league foe Salem, N.H.

Tewksbury Mite II hockey Goalies Marra and Giasullo stop Woburn

Tewksbury 8
Woburn 2

The Tewksbury Mite II hockey team sponsored by Griffin Greenhouse Supply, got its sixth straight win, taking out Valley League opponent Woburn 8-2 Tuesday evening.

The match, played at the Valley Forum, featured goalie Justin Marra holding Woburn to two goals in the first half of the game, while goalie Nick Giasullo pitched a shut-out the second half behind the strong Redmen defense of Steven Marazzi, Steven Shainker, Steven Gatti, Tim Frasier and Derek Murphy. The offensive star of the game was scoring machine Dan Mazzei, who scored six goals, the first three coming in the first period. The first came at 9:55 of the first period while Mazzei was out in the middle of a line change. He was assisted on that goal by Robert McVey and Rob Doe. At 8:57 of the first, Mazzei scored, helped by his usual linemates T.J. Greene and D.J.

Tanner. Mazzei got the game winner at 4:47 of the first, this time assisted by Marc Legere and Jim McGonigle.

The second saw Mazzei score at 5:30, assisted by defenseman Steven Marazzi and Steven Shainker. It was Mazzei again at 5:19 of the second, this time unassisted. Finally at 3:21 of the second period, Marc Legere lit the lamp assisted by Tim Frasier and Michael Taylor.

Again the Redmen kept the Woburn team scoreless in the third, helped by strong defensive play by the line of Cory Hamilton, Robert McVey and Rob Doe.

Dan Mazzei wrapped up his spectacular night with a goal at 9:49 of the third. Finally, at 4:32 of the last period it was Mike Taylor scoring on a breakaway, capping the night for the Redmen. The win keeps the Mite II team in first place in the Valley League with a 4-0-0 record.

Tewksbury fares well in Turkey Day basketball tourney

The Tewksbury Boys Basketball Program recently completed its first Turkey Shootout Basketball Tournament. They fielded a 32 team tournament lasting three days.

The three Tewksbury teams fared very well in the tournament with a combined record of seven wins and three losses.

Tewksbury's sixth grade team which is sponsored by Dr. John Alberti was three and nothing in the preliminary round before losing in the championship game to a

Tewksbury's seventh grade team which sponsored by Anderson Flooring, played an outstanding tournament ending up with a record of two and one. Their only loss was to a strong Hamstead, N.H. team which eventually won the seventh grade championship.

Tewksbury's eight grade team came within two points of playing for the championship losing to Hamilton-Wenham 50 to 48. They finished with a two and one record. Members of the eighth grade team which is sponsored by Luna Rosa Ristorante were Mike Rocco, John Cintolo, Steve Kasprzak, Matt Davis, Joe Torname, Ryan Byrne, Chris Sheppard, Dave Fogaren, Mark Wahl, Jeff Medor, Steve McKenna and Jim Hamilton.

The Tewksbury Board of Directors would like to thank all their volunteers and sponsors for making this tournament a success.

Squirt B action

Cats lose tight game

It has been said, "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game." Nowhere was this better illustrated than this weekend's match-up between Wilmington's Squirt B's and their dual state rival MRYHA. The Cats came out aggressively in the first period, keeping most of the action in the opposing zone. The defensive combination of Mike Fay along with Zach Church and Brad Fraser working with Derek Fitzpatrick proved to be a very effective strategy by coaches Kevin Tobin, Ken Roberts and Mike Fay, who had to work the roster which was a few players short.

Second period action consisted of much of the same, as both teams were playing really well. Although Wilmington continued to dominate the action, MRYHA, managed to get two goals. Net minder Jimmy

Good was fit to be tied. However, he refused to lose his concentration and turned away every other shot during the night. The Cats had their share of chances as the offensive line of Shayne Pellerin, Mark Walsh and Michael Earls was working well.

Michael Earls took his game to a new level as he out-finessed the opposition all night. Unfortunately, lady luck was not on his side this night as he just missed several shots by the narrowest of margins. The Cats' next line, with Dana Steenbrugge, Justin Roberts and Danny Tobin, provided some excitement as well. Their efforts were relentless throughout the game, making great passes and getting some good shot selections.

As the third period got under way, Dan Tobin got by an MRYHA defender and made an awesome pass to Mark Walsh who drove the puck right through the five hole for the Cats only goal. During the final minute, the Cats pulled Jimmy Good which allowed them to apply the six man pressure. How they didn't score we will never know, as the action was entirely in front of the MRYHA net. This was a great effort by two really good teams who showed a lot of heart.

Squirt A's

Cats scrap with Andover for 5-2 loss

Friday, December 4 the Cat Squirt A's took on the formidable Andover A's. Play started out fast and tenacious with both teams getting chances in each end. Andover broke the ice first but the Cats stayed with them step for step.

Several minutes later Ray Bennett dug the puck out of the corner, passed it up to George Dighton, to Dave Griffin who sprung Tony Resendes for a pretty goal! 1-1 after one.

Second period action became more furious with both goalies stonering their opposing teams. Scott Serrazza was doing a fine job protecting the twine for the Cats. Late in the period Andover broke through again only to have the Cats right back. Steve Stokes and Ray Gravalles moved the puck well into the Andover end with the puck squirting out front. Steve Peterson ended up with it and knew where it belonged! Nice goal.

Two late Andover goals slowed the Cats down but the third still lay ahead.

In the third the defense tightened up with Billy Schultes, Ray Bennett, Mike McMahon and Scott Dunnett playing some decent hockey. Warren Fitzpatrick, Jason Buckley and Nick Yeomelakis had a potent shift with about eight shots on net coming from every angle with Andover unable to do anything.

Unfortunately their goalie came up big. Unable to put the puck away, a late Andover goal ended the game at 5-2. Thanks Wilmington Arena Authority, for your support!

Four tough losses for Wilmington Mites

Danvers 5
Wilmington 2

Wilmington Mite I team played Danvers in Dual State League. Cory Tobin was between the pipes for the Cats. Wilmington started the action only 30 seconds into the game when Eric Siegel came flying down the ice and scored a pretty goal unassisted. Halfway through the first, Danvers would get one of their own. Danvers added another in the second to take the lead.

Both teams played tough in the third, Wilmington's Sean Dighton got the Cats second goal with Ernie Mello and Jarred Mitrano assisting. Danvers got three of their own, giving them the lead and the win.

Wilmington 7
Masco 3

The Mite I's played the following day against Masco in Valley League. Corey Tobin was in the net for the Wildcats. Wilmington's team got things started with Eric Siegel popping in the first with Timmy Cushing assisting. Eric Siegel would score again with Timmy Cushing and Ernie Mello assisting. Next would be Eric Siegel who scored again for a pure hat trick with Ernie Mello and Timmy Cushing assisting.

The Cats fell asleep for just one minute in the second, but it was enough time for Masco to come back and score three of their own in just 67 seconds. That was all the Cats needed and from that point on it was all Wilmington. Ernie Mello was next with Eric Siegel and Timmy Cushing assisting.

The third period would start with Ernie Mello again scoring with Sean Fay and Timmy (the play maker) Cushing assisting. With two minutes left in the game Ernie would get his third for a pure hat trick with Eric Siegel and Timmy Cushing (his sixth assist of the day) assisting.

Before the game was over Brian Svensson would find the back of the net with Kevin Fitzpatrick and Sean Dighton assisting. Corey Tobin was solid in net as always making sure that Masco would not get on the board again. The hard work of the entire team including Nicholas Robarge, Michael Robarge, Jarred Mitrano, Max Wilkins, Jason Yeomelakis, Greg Good and Michael Enwright earned the win for the Cats.

Nashoba 5
Wilmington 3

The following weekend the Mite I's played Nashoba in Dual State action. Kevin Fitzpatrick was goaltender. The Cats came out a little sluggish in the first, letting in four unanswered goals.

The second and third periods saw a different game as Timmy Cushing got things started for Wilmington with Ernie Mello and Eric Siegel assisting.

Wilmington was carrying the play with Jarred Mitrano, Sean Fay, Michael Enwright, Jason Yeomelakis, Greg Good, Corey Tobin, Max Wilkins, Michael Robarge, Nick Robarge and Sean Dighton working hard shift after shift spoiling any chances Nashoba had.

Eric got Wilmington a little closer scoring with Ernie Mello assisting. Down the other end Kevin was on his game keeping the puck out of the net. Nashoba got another one in the third which would normally break a team's spirit, but not these kids.

The goalie was pulled and Ernie Mello would not be denied, scoring unassisted. Nashoba did win, but Wilmington showed great character coming back and never letting up.

North Andover 3
Wilmington 2

Wilmington Mite I's played a Valley League game against North Andover. Kevin Fitzpatrick was netminder for this contest. Wilmington came out flying. Greg Good got the Cats on the board with Max Wilkins and Jason Yeomelakis assisting. This line was tenacious and hard working the entire game. Next was Max Wilkins scoring on a Greg Good rebound earning him the assist.

The second period saw North Andover getting one of their own, tying the game. The third period was back and forth with Michael Robarge, Sean Fay, Michael Enwright, Brian Svensson, Jared Mitrano, Nick Robarge, Corey Tobin, Sean Dighton, Timmy Cushing, Eric Siegel and Ernie Mello skating and working hard but North Andover managed to pop in the game winner on Kevin Fitzpatrick who had a good game stopping many shots.

Wilmington Squirt III's take two in Valley League Action

The Wilmington Squirt III's got off to a very fortunate start in the Valley League in both the parity round, as well as through the first schedule of games.

In the parity round the Squirt III's started out playing well together, skating away with a "W" against each opponent, earning themselves elevation to the next higher division. The Squirt III's are made up of three solid forward lines with Maria Tucker centering Derek Sullivan and Mark Bernardo on one, and Keith Irwin flanked by Kyle Abell and Derek Flodin.

The third line is made up of center Robby MacKinnon and wingers Chris Stafford and Danny Silva. All three lines have contributed evenly to the scoring in each game. The forwards are backed up by a very good five player defense including Michael Hayes, Derek Griffin, Brian Garrett, Zachary Ciampa and Derek DeRosa which has also put away a goal of two.

Through the first four games of the season the III's have gotten better competition, posting a 2-1-1 record. One of these wins was a 7-0 shutout put in by the stand-up goal tending of Mark Manning. Manning has come through big keeping the Wildcats in every game they have played. Danny Silva played well between the pipes in one game filling in while Manning was under the weather.

Wilmington 4
Danvers 0

The Squirt III's have also joined the Dual State League, having to wait until the parity round was over before starting. In the first game against Danvers the Cats came up with a four to zip win. The Wildcats started the scoring with a pair in the first with Robby MacKinnon scoring the first of two goals unassisted and the second from Danny Silva with a helper going to Chris Stafford.

There was no scoring in the second but the Cats kept the pressure on giving up very few opportunities on Brian Raposo who earned the shutout. Derek Sullivan got the first goal in the third with an assist going to Brian Garrett. MacKinnon closed out the scoring to end the game making it 4-0 on a feed from Stafford.

Wilmington 8
Woburn 2

The Squirt III's put up another Dual State victory against Woburn by the score of 8-2. They scored two in the first when Chris Stafford put in a turn around shot from Robby MacKinnon. Robby put one in for himself taking a feed from Stafford and Danny Silva.

In the second period the Cats picked up four more with the first coming when Keith Irwin took it strong up the right side putting it away over the goalie's glove. Mark Bernardo picked up the second score of the period on a nice pass play by Ryan Loring and Maria Tucker.

On the same shift Tucker was hustling down the left side shooting at the net from the goal line, scoring with Bernardo sitting at the crease waiting for a rebound. Defenseman Sean Roy closed out the scoring with a nice end to end rush making it 6-0. The defense of Brian Garrett, Derek Griffin, Zach Ciampa and Mike Hayes did another great job not allowing a shot on Brian Raposo until late in the third.

Silva started the scoring in the third with assists going to MacKinnon and Stafford. Kyle Abell made it eight zip when he tipped in an Irwin shot. Woburn did get two goals with the second one just beating Raposo at the buzzer.

Dick Scanlon, Wilmington Coach of the Year

said incredulously. "The players didn't know what happened. I didn't know what happened. I knew we were in trouble in overtime. That goal took the wind out of our sails. It was like being punched in the belly. Everyone was so upset about it I think they had trouble getting themselves refocused." It wasn't until Scanlon viewed the game film that he felt a little better. "My first feeling was that we just stopped playing," he said. "But watching the film, the kid who scored the [game-tying] goal was clearly off-side by a stride. . . . At least it was an explanation. I would have hated not to have had an explanation for that." There was one ready explanation for what Scanlon's baseball team did last spring, and his name was Scott Swiezynski. The tall right-hander won 10 games for the 'Cats and pitched them into the EMass Final, where they lost to a dominating eventual State Champ in Bishop Stang, 5-1. "That was a good run," said Scanlon. "That was a team no one expected to go as far as they did. That was a new team with new players and it all started beginning to gel as the season went along." The 'Cats lost their first two but finished 14-6 and won four straight in the Div. 3 Tournament, including the North Final over Arlington Catholic. In addition to Swiezynski's heroics, Scanlon got good pitching from number two starter Paul Fugere and lots of big hits at big moments from some unlikely sources. "The whole thing just worked out well for us," Scanlon summed up. As long as things continue to go well - most importantly as long as he continues to feel well - Scanlon said will stay in the coaching game. "I don't put too much stock in the age thing," he said. "If I feel good I'll continue to coach; if I don't I won't. I've watched people give it up too soon and regret it. Other people, like [Dracut High football coach] Ed Murphy, coached until he was 72." For now, Scanlon is looking forward to the winter season - when he doesn't coach a team - to rest up and get in shape for baseball. He'll lift weights and walk a lot, all the while thinking about what lies ahead. "I think I have some good ballplayers coming back," he said. "It will be a good season if we can fill the void of Swiezynski leaving." And that's what it's all about for Dick Scanlon - the pure joy of coaching, of teaching kids and watching them benefit from the whole process. "That's what's so great about high school athletics," he said. "Unlike pro sports the kids are in it because they want to be. When they win good things happen. They gain a sense of pride in themselves and I think it's all good."

Music program's fate unknown

cancelled without Dilmore's assistance.

"My son is still looking forward to going to France. We are trying to stay optimistic," said Campbell. Her son, who is a junior at Wilmington High school, has been in the program since third grade.

When SAP members asked Dilmore about his absence after the October meeting, he told them to call the school committee. However, board members said they could not openly discuss the matter.

"It's a collective bargaining issue. I know it's frustrating. If the Wilmington Teachers Association chooses to talk about it, that's up to them," said school committee chairwoman Suzanne Rooney. "As chairwoman, I will not violate executive session ruling. Ethically, I can't."

The president of the Wilmington Teachers Association, Carol Hayes, could not be reached for comment.

In the current contract, Dilmore receives $49,102.70 as a base salary and a stipend of $1,260 for the extra-curricular activities, which is half of an elementary band teacher's stipend. Wilmington's Business and Finance Administrator, Bradford Jackson, said that is how the stipend was originally set when Dilmore took the position 11 years ago.

Jackson said Dilmore's contract requires him to perform the day-to-day school activities and two concert series - one during the holiday season and one at the end of the year. "These concerts are still scheduled to go on," he stated.

The current contract expires in August. The Wilmington Teachers Association will begin negotiating a new contract the first of the year.

Dilmore volunteers his time for the extra-curricular part of the program that is not required in his contract. They include trips to the nursing homes, playing at malls and concerts for the Chamber of Commerce. Strings also offers cultural exchange opportunities to Great Britain and Italy.

In October, a letter signed by 63 parents was sent to the school committee, asking the school board, administration, Dilmore, department heads and teachers to show their support for the program.

"We're trying to have a positive outlook," said Campbell. "We will continue to show our support for Mr. Dilmore."

Dilmore started the program in 1987 and developed it from a handful of students to now 325 students.

The students in the program play the violin, base, cello and other string instruments.

Santa made his trip to Wilmington Recreation Dept. workshop again, and right on time, as usual. Sharing his knees are Timothy (age 2) and Paige (age 3) McNamara.

New lead on an old case

and continued following them on foot, "We believe he knew the area well" King stated.

"We have worked very hard on this case, and we would like to see this come to a close" King stated.

Well cleaning plan presented

water's pH levels. This treated water will be discharged within the wetlands buffer zone in an area surrounded by baled hay and a silt fence for runoff protection. The well and discharge area are sitting on what amounts to an island surrounded by wetlands; the well is about 25 feet from the wetlands, the discharge area is approximately 15 feet away.

"Would the chemicals affect my property?" asked nearby resident Corinne McGrath. She also wanted to know when the project would begin and whether there would be any odors.

"There's really nothing that you need to be concerned about," said Perry. She said that although she hadn't been present when wells have been cleaned before, odors were unlikely. She said the proposed procedures and chemicals were standard. The pump station is set back about 900 feet from the road. Until the project gets a Department of Environmental Protection file number, however, the public hearing could not be closed, so Perry could not say when the work would begin.

Currently, this single well located beneath the pump station building is used in emergencies, but once it is cleaned, it may be used more often. Cleaning should take about five to 10 days. A contractor, yet to be hired, will provide the tank and treat the water stored there before draining it. An existing propane tank and service line to the pump station and an existing fence around it will also be replaced. Except for the absent DEP file number, the commission voiced no objections to the project.

"As a courtesy," suggested James Morris, the Commission's Chairperson, to Perry, "maybe you could notify abutters when you begin."

The public hearing on the well was continued until the next meeting, Dec. 16.

The DEP settled an appeal about a proposed development at Cherokee Estates on Woburn Street. William Gaughan, Regional Director of the Northeast DEP, wrote the commission that the department has decided to grant applicant Joseph Langone's Superseding Order of Conditions. The DEP felt the project met the necessary performance standards, giving Langone permission to complete his project. To proceed, Langone must submit a revised plan, noting both the mean annual high water line and the corresponding Riverfront Area boundary, which will extend 200 feet beyond that high water line.

"The good news," said John Keeley, Assistant Director of Planning and Conservation, "is that now at least we can delineate the wetlands zone, using the annual high water mark, and feel confident that that's what the DEP wants us to do."

"The method we've been doing is correct, and we're doing it accurately," agreed Morris. "There may be future disputes about the location of the riverfront zone but not the methodology for determining it."

It was clear sailing for virtually every other proposal before the commission that night. Applicant Donald Sughrue's plans to revise his 8 Floradale Ave. driveway were approved. Sughrue must pave only the area shown and remove the old pavement. The driveway is about 60 feet away from the wetlands and no erosion control is needed.

Since Glenn Sullivan's proposed project on 22 Chapman Avenue sits about 100 feet away from the wetlands, it too got the go ahead from the commission. The commission approved Joseph Langone's insignificant change to his Lot 9A Cherokee Lane property. He'll be adding a deck and widening a driveway. Olin Corporation's request for a one-year extension at 51 Eames Street was also granted. All remaining issues on the agenda were postponed to later meetings.

For Whom The Bell Tolls

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Ding dong, ding dong, Salvation Army Christmas Bells are ringing, but not with the same energy as in past years.

The problem, according to the Salvation Army's local coordinator Mary Gail Ranaldi, is the lack of bell ringers, both volunteers and paid.

"I need to fill 33 hours per-day, six days a week," said Ranaldi, a local realtor who does the coordinating part-time. "The money is there, but if we don't have people to take it, we aren't going to get it and that's a crying shame."

According to Ranaldi, this area has a goal of raising $50,000 this year. The money goes for the Salvation Army's services such as disaster relief in this country and in other countries and for helping the homeless.

She noted that some of the peo-

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Back...and to the future

Excellent 'Gene's in Stoneham

"Stoneham Police Chief Eugene Passaro is a problem solver," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"As manager of the town's Police Department for the past 17 years, Passaro now sees '95 percent of the work as non-law enforcement,' and challenges the townspeople to bring their concerns to the police.

"We want complaints. If there is a problem, complain. Don't expect us to see it, you have to tell us. If you do, and we don't respond, shame on us," he says.

"Part of what has brought about this philosophy of a 'problem solving department,' as Passaro likes to call it, has as much to do with the person behind the badge as to the programs he has implemented.

"Passaro brought to Stoneham an extensive background from Stamford, Connecticut, where he worked his way up through the ranks to serve as that city's deputy police chief, overseeing a department of 300.

"Following the riots of the 1960s, the deaths of fellow police officers, and the myriad of urban problems facing that department, Passaro earned his Master's degree and sought out a new opportunity.

"He soon found what he was looking for in Stoneham, a community whose police department seemed tailor-made for a leader eager to be an active member of the community and immerse himself in new types of problems.

"Initially, he considered his position as police chief as an avenue to learn more about town government and eventually move on to a Town Administrator position.

"But after 30 days on the job, I realized there was no way I wanted to be a Town Administrator," Passaro recalls. In fact, he had found his niche and considers himself fortunate to have been chosen for the position which he describes as 'extremely rewarding.'

"Passaro found many differences between the city and the town of Stoneham, the most notable of which was the people. He called the townspeople 'more friendly, accepting, and trusting.' That, he believes, 'makes for better working conditions.'

"One of the most successful programs that the department has implemented under Passaro, and one that is redefining police work around the country, is community policing...."

Forever 'Young' in Winchester

"Ruth Young, the new Council on Aging Administrator who is replacing Barbara Ciampa, has come aboard and seems happy to be here," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"She is an attractive lady in her fifties, and she brings with her a wealth of experience.... Mrs. Young told us that she especially enjoys working with senior citizens.

"Her philosophy is that seniors have a great deal to offer because they are mature, wise and experienced and that society in general tends to overlook their true worth.

"She thinks the programs offered here are excellent and that the physical plant is beautiful.

"Ruth holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Mt. Holyoke College and a Master of Social Work degree from Simmons College.

"Her experience includes work with both children and adults.

"Most recently she has worked in geriatric services through McLean Hospital, providing consultation and treatment services for community based geriatric programs.

"Mrs. Young is a friendly person, anxious to do her best to fill the position left by Barbara Ciampa.

"It's a big job; let's welcome her!"

'Berry' good ideas for North Reading and Wilmington

"The town's next big development opportunity is the J.T. Berry property, 100 acres of potentially valuable real estate on the North Reading-Wilmington line. Decisions made concerning this property will have incalculable impact on the future of the town, leaving a lasting legacy affecting both the town's quality of life and financial viability," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

"The process of disposing of the property now enters a new phase with the appointment of another committee to work in partnership with the state, which still holds title to the land. Happily, many members of the town's former study committee have re-enlisted on the new panel, where they will be joined by North Reading and Wilmington town officials.

"While development of the tax base is vital to the town's future, some kind of recreational portion could easily be accommodated on 100 acres and might go a long way toward winning state approval to dispose of the land. We're not saying what those uses should be, but often the most successful developments in Greater Boston are of the mixed use variety.

"North Reading has established an enviable record with the state in establishing Ipswich River Park and the Hillview Country Club. That track record could be leveraged to further our goals with the Division of Capital Asset Management, the agency that still controls the Berry land.

"The possibilities offered by the Berry property are endless and the challenges are exciting. The right circumstances are in place to make this the town's next success story."

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. ## Free college aid presentation

A free presentation of "College Financial Aid" will be held twice for the parents of local area high school students at the Americal Civic Center in Wakefield (467 Main Street).

The first class will be Tuesday, December 15 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The class will be held again on Saturday, December 19 from 10-11:30 a.m. The author of the report "9 New Ways To Beat The High Cost Of College" will host the class.

Topics to be covered will include how to double or triple your eligibility for aid, and how to pick colleges that give the best financial aid packages. The discussion will also include how to possibly send a student to an expensive private college for less money than a state school, as well as how to answer the key questions on the financial aid forms.

The class is intended for parents of college-bound high school seniors and juniors. Students are also welcome. Anyone who is sending a student to college now or in the future should plan to attend this eye-opening session. Although the class is free, reservations are required, and a toll-free number has been established to accept them.

Please call 1-800-770-1504, 24 hrs./day, to reserve your space.

Bell ringers

ple walking by will throw in as much as $100, $50 or $10.

Many people believe that you have to be a member of the Salvation Army to be a bell ringer but that is not true. All it takes is the want to help others less fortunate.

Ranaldi stressed that volunteers are still needed even this late into the Christmas season. Any person, young or old, working or retired, that is willing to give as little as one-hour per-week is welcome.

On average Ranaldi said that people are volunteering for two hours at a time. Some volunteers will work their two hours take a break and then come back for another two hours.

The only requirement is to call Ranaldi, and let her know your references. She can be reached by calling (781) 942-2083.

All of the positions she has are inside at Burlington Mall and the hours are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Although most of the bell ringers are volunteers, some do get paid a small stipend, that is above minimum wage.

All of the volunteers get paid with a warm feeling and a better sense of the goodness that is in their fellow human beings.

Children who come to ring the bell can be rewarded with credit for their Community Service Work requirements in school.

North Reading resident and long-time Daily Times Chronicle employee, Marcia Morang said, "It takes nothing and you get a wonderful feeling. People thank you."

Ranaldi said that all kinds of people have volunteered to participate in the program. They include KISS 108 personality Lisa Lips (Lisa Tedesco) as well as doctors, lawyers, retired teachers, a marketing director of a Billerica firm, and a college professor.

Ranaldi has even been able to persuade her younger brother, Somerville resident John Daniel Calafotes, to donate his time.

That went back to when Ranaldi answered an advertisement in the newspaper. When she found out it was for the Salvation Army she was kidding with her brother that they would probably want her as a bell ringer.

She wasn't far off. The Army was looking for a local coordinator and Ranaldi was chosen for the position.

"I called my brother back and said, 'you won't believe this, I am the chief bell ringer,'" Ranaldi said.

She then asked him if he would be her first volunteer and he said yes.

Morang said that being a bell ringer is something she has always wanted to do, but like others thought she had to be a member of the Salvation Army religion.

That myth was cleared up for her a few years ago when she saw Indiana Pacers coach and former Boston Celtic great Larry Bird ringing a bell. Another time Morang saw WBZ news person Jack Williams donating his time.

Now in semi-retirement, Morang said she took the opportunity to start ringing a bell.

"I will do it once a week until Christmas," she said.

According to Morang's observations her best giver was a woman in her 60's.

"Young people are not as generous," she said.

However, volunteer Barbara Kinne of Reading, a retired elementary school teacher, said that she has many young people, including teenagers with spiked hair coming up and giving a donation.

"They are on their own or with someone of their own age," Kinne said. "They are not part of a family group."

According to Kinne, "It is not hard to keep a smile on your face. At this stage of Christmas shopping, people are quite nice."

A second year bell ringer is Reading resident and mother of two, Nancy Docktor, who is starting a family tradition.

She and Dana, 6, and Ian, 4, all spend the time at the mall together ringing the bells.

"We have a good time doing it," Docktor said. "We are making it a Christmas tradition."

Docktor added, "We started it last year as a way to get the kids away from the commercialization of Christmas. It is a wonderful experience for the children."

She notes that Ian last about an hour before he needs a rest but Dana goes for the full two hours.

"She is encouraging us to take on more hours," Docktor said.

Burlington resident Janet Knudsen, the director of marketing for Billerica based WSI said she started this year after seeing an item in the Daily Times Chronicle that bell ringers were needed.

Her first time was on the Friday after Thanksgiving and she will back out in the mall on Thursday and Friday this week.

"I will probably volunteer for more hours," Knudsen said.

She voiced her observation, "The people's response to the Salvation Army Bell Ringers is really positive. I was pleasantly surprised at their response and generosity."

Because it has helped her to regain the "true spirit of Christmas," Knudsen said, "I plan to make it a part of my holidays in the future."

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

North Reading High School will host its annual Vin Olivo boys basketball jamboree on Saturday, December 12. The jamboree is named in memory of Vin Olivo, North Reading basketball coach from 1960-1972, who passed away in August, 1992.

The event includes 12 teams involving six different leagues and provides a head start for the 1998-99 basketball season.

The jamboree starts at 5:15 pm, and six games, each one half in duration, will be played. The matchups and times are as follows:

5:15 pm - Wilmington vs. Chelsea
5:55 pm - Hamilton-Wenham vs. Tewksbury
6:35 pm - Georgetown vs. St. Clements
7:15 pm - Pentucket vs. Austin Prep
7:55 pm - Masconomet vs. Reading
8:35 pm - North Reading vs. Triton

SPORTS SHORTS

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: With all the talk about stadiums lately, can you tell me what stadium was used for a World Series, a Super Bowl, and an NCAA championship basketball final game? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

READING'S MEGAN LAVOIE, a senior at Vassar College, was a member of the field hockey team which compiled a 10-5-0 regular season record and qualified for post-season competition in the New York State Championship. She served as cocaptain on the team, which posted a four-game win streak at the end of the season, and was ranked ninth in the region in mid-October.

The all-stars for the 1998

Middlesex League football season were announced Monday. Here is a list of local athletes who achieved this honor:

FIRST TEAM OFFENSE
Wakefield - Scott Tracey, Chris Lutkevich, Dave Forster, Shawn Timmons;
Reading - Robbie Olivar, Joe Cain, Gary Ward;
Woburn - Erik Farnkoff; Winchester - Brian Curry, Tom DiCarlo.
FIRST TEAM DEFENSE
Wakefield - Jared Waitt; Reading - Adam Briggs, Mike Boyd, Mike Guarino, Kevin Phinney; Woburn - Woodson Michel; Winchester - Jeremy Carroll; Stoneham - Paul Cuic.
SECOND TEAM OFFENSE
Burlington - Evan Bishop, Matt Pierce;
Winchester - Guy Danelle, Dave Freeman, Doug Halchak; Stoneham - Bill Adams.
SECOND TEAM DEFENSE
Wakefield - Eric Fulgham; Reading - Jamie Gath, Matt Leahy
Burlington - Ryan McNeil
Woburn - Alexis Colon
Winchester - Doug Halchak
Stoneham - Tim O'Donnell, D.J. Bates

The Central Massachusetts Mavericks Baseball Club will be holding fall tryouts in Reading for players who will be 13 or 14 years old by next spring. Team selection will be made at the end of October, for play next season. There is no cost for tryouts. The total cost of the program is $50. Teams will play in the Massachusetts AAU Junior Olympic Baseball Program. For more information and to register for tryouts call 1-508-842-5725.

Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? It's one of those dimes, as you probably guessed.

TEWKSBURY'S MIKE ADAMS was a member of the 400 Free Relay team at UMass-Dartmouth that captured its second victory in as many outings at a recent swim meet.

NORTH READING'S ANDREW CASEY had three goals and five assists for 11 points in 17 games as a member of the Lehigh men's soccer team. The club finished with a 12-4-1 overall record.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The facility is the Metrodome in Minnesota. Congratulations to those that answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200 between 7 am and 3:30 pm, Monday through Friday, or fax information at 781-942-0884.

A Listing of Interesting Events and Happenings

SEND A SANTA LETTER TO A CHILD

Once again the North Pole at 25 Lowell Street Wilmington will be raising money for the Wilmington Food Pantry.

For a $3 donation (or more if you like) your child, friend, boss, spouse etc. will receive a personal letter from Santa. All the proceeds go to the Wilmington Food Pantry and the postage etc. is picked up by the North Pole.

For information call 781-657-0209

FINE ART SHOW IN WILMINGTON

The Andover Artist Guild annual Holiday Fine Art Show and Sale will be held December 12 & 13 at a new and larger location this year. "Gallery Wilmington" at the Wilmington Art Center located just over the line, in the town center of Wilmington, Rte. 62, 219 Middlesex Street. The exhibit will feature over 150 original paintings in all medias by area artists of the valley.

The center will be appropriately decorated to put visitors into the holiday spirit as art lovers browse and look for that perfect but unique holiday gift.

Show hours - Saturday, December 12, 9 to 4 and Sunday, December 13, 11-3:30.

Directions: Rte. 93 South to Wilmington exit to Rte. 62 or Rte. 125 South to Rte. 62.

ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE "WINTER PETFEST"

The Animal Rescue League of Boston will host its "Winter Petfest" on Saturday, December 12, at the League's Boston location at 10 Chandler Street. The holiday event will be held from 10 am to 3 pm and is free to the public.

Activities will include Pet Photos with Santa, children's crafts and activities as well as a live reptile demonstration. Tables will be set up selling refreshments, crafts, flea market items, and League merchandise. Ornaments honoring and memorializing pets will be hung on a Tribute Tree. Since the League does not advocate giving pets as gifts, adoption gift certificates will also be for sale. The holidays can be a stressful time for animals and waiting until the entire family can choose a pet is recommended.

Any donations of new toys as well as blankets and towels would be appreciated. If bringing a pet, please make sure the animal is on a leash or in a proper carrier. For more information please contact the Animal Rescue League of Boston at 617-426-9170

ANDOVER CHORAL SOCIETY COMMUNITY MESSIAH

On Monday, December 14, at 7 pm, the Andover Choral Society (ACS) will present its Fifth Annual Community Messiah Sing at the Free Christian Church, Elm Street, Andover. This annual event provides a wonderful holiday opportunity for members of the community to join together with the members of the choral society in presenting an informal setting of the Christmas sections of the Messiah along with the Hallelujah Chorus.

Singers will be joined by prominent and rising young soloists from the Boston area. Leonard Ciampa will be the organist.

Anyone with a love of the Christmas musical tradition is cordially invited, especially families. Persons having Messiah scores are encouraged to bring them. Nevertheless, scores will be available at the door. A modest $5 donation (children under 12 are free) is requested to defray expenses. Any surplus generated will be given to a charitable cause.

For information on this performance or for membership details please call 978-687-8225.

ADOPTION INFORMATIONAL MEETING JANUARY 21

Boston Adoption Bureau will be holding an informational meeting for anyone looking to adopt, Thursday, January 21, 1999 at 6:30 pm, 14 Beacon Street, Room 101, Boston.

Please call 617-227-1336 to make a reservation.

WOMEN'S DISCUSSION GROUP MEETING

A LEGACY OF EARLY MOTHER LOSS, WOMEN'S DISCUSSION GROUP will meet for a 12 week group for women who were children or adolescents when their mothers died. Free pre-group interviews underway in Lexington for women in adjacent communities.

For more information, call Judith Zabin, LICSW at 781-861-0956.

SHOP ON-LINE THIS HOLIDAY

Avoid crowded parking lots and stores this holiday season by shopping at Massachusetts Audubon Society's Audubon Shop on the World Wide Web at www.massaudubon.org. The shop, which is located at the Society's Drumlin Farm Wildlife Sanctuary in Lincoln, offers a variety of unique nature-related gifts for all ages including books, bird feeders, toys, bird seed, binoculars, T-shirts, and more.

The proceeds from the shop help support the Society's conservation, education, and advocacy mission across Massachusetts. In addition to the ease of shopping online during the busy holiday season, Massachusetts Audubon members receive a 10 percent discount and nonmembers receive a 5 percent discount on all items ordered online.

"People will find original gifts for everyone on their holiday lists at the Audubon Shop online," says Sumie Murakami, manager of the Audubon Shop. "In addition to saving time and money by shopping at the Audubon Shop online, shoppers will be helping the Society protect the nature of Massachusetts for people and wildlife."

For more information about the Society or to support its important work by becoming a member, call 1-800-AUDUBON or look up the society's website at www.massaudubon.org.

MUSEUM EXTENDS FREE ADMISSION PROGRAM

The USS Constitution

Museum Board of Trustees voted unanimously to extend the "Gift to America" Free Admission Program indefinitely at its meeting last night 18 months after instituting the program.

Since the Free Admission Program began on July 1, 1997, the Museum has experienced an increased visitation as well as increased revenue generated from the museum Gift Store. In Fiscal year 1997, Museum attendance was roughly 70,000. One year, attendance skyrocketed to more than 362,000 visitors.

Despite free admission, revenue generated from the Museum Gift Store and donations increased significantly.

The Museum's World Wide Web address is: www.USSconstitutionmuseum.org.

ROCKPORT CHRISTMAS HIGHLIGHTS

Rockport an old fashioned New England seacoast town has begun its holiday celebration.

On Saturday and Sunday December 12 and 13, is the Seacoast Village Open House. Shops and Galleries are open. There will be strolling musicians, ice sculptures and hay rides down historic Bearskin Neck.

Children will make shell ornaments and there will be a Scandinavian Festival. The first annual Festival of Trees will take place around the town. The theme is "Trees from Around the World". On Sunday, six of Rockport's inns will host local artisans and crafters.

For more information, contact the Cape Ann Chamber of Commerce at 283-1601 or the Rockport Board of Trade at 546-6575.

HEADACHES WHAT CAN YOU DO ABOUT THEM?

Find out about the nature of headaches and what can be done about them at a workshop hosted by Middlesex Community College from 12:30 to 1:30 pm on Friday, Dec. 11 in the Bedford Campus Cafe East. Dr. Robert Cantu, board certified neurosurgeon, Medical Director for the National Center for Catastrophic Injury Research and member of the Emerson Hospital medical staff, will help give you a better

ANTHONY MANCONI

I have found that most people are KIND, and Generous to a fault. I asked a blind man who had a newspaper stand in a building in Boston, I suppose people sometimes give you a one dollar bill telling you it's a five?" "No sir Chipper, it's just the opposite."

Folks, God can do wonders with a broken heart if, we give Him all the pieces. I remember during the depression of the 1930's when everyone in the neighborhood cared for one another. My mother said to me, "go up the street and find out how OLD Mrs. Matthews is today." I came back and said, "Ma, Mrs. Matthews said, "it's none of your business how OLD she is, today,"

Education is what we get when we READ the Fine PRINT. EXPERIENCE, when we DON'T.

A jeweler told my cousin Mario's wife Maria, "that's a beautiful gold locket you have, I suppose you carry some sort of memento for sentimental reasons." "Yes," Maria said, "there's a lock of Mario's hair inside." "Oh?" the jeweler exclaimed, "I'm sorry to hear that Mario is gone." "Oh!" Maria shouted, "he isn't BUT, his HAIR is GONE."

Blackie Vega called up Mickey Reardon at four o'clock in the morning and shouted, "come down right away and open up the bar-room." "For crying out loud, can't you wait until Ten O'Clock for a drink?" "I don't want a drink, I want to get the heck OUT, you locked me in last night."

A doctor called up George Gould and said, "your CHECK bounced, it came back!" "Oh Yeah? Well Doc, so did my Arthritis."

The REVENORS arrested a Hill Billy for running an Illegal still in West Virginia. The judge was not only a legal beagle but also a Biblical Scholar. I notice that your name is Joshua" he said to the old bearded mountaineer, "might you be the JOSHUA in the Bible who made the SUN STAND STILL?" "No, your honor, I'm the JOSHUA who made the MOON-SHINE STILL in the mountains of West Virginia."

Angelo Quaganti told me, "a BULLDOZER is anyone who SLEEPS during a political speech."

Chris Corbelle went on a CRASH reducing diet and lost 30 pounds. Last night was the first time in months that he has seen his toes when he took a shower.

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

Planning well makes all the difference

Making the grade in Wilmington

"Wilmington High School students who participate in extracurricular activities will be facing stricter rules," notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

"Principal Edward Woods explained to Wilmington School Committee members the tougher requirements. He reported that students must carry at least 30 credits, pass 25 of those credits and maintain a 65 or better grade point average in order to participate in activities like athletics, student council and drama. Under the current policy, students are required to carry 20 credits and pass a percentage of the credits in order to engage in extracurricular activities."

"Woods confirmed that the policy is going to be very stringent. Five and six courses can be quite a lot for the kids to be taking on. Passing 25 credits is a big step," he noted.

"Progress reports would be given to students four weeks into every term, according to Woods. The reports would also be given to the coaches. If the student is failing or is in danger of failing, the student will be placed on academic probation for the remainder of the term," said Woods. "The student will have to go to the teacher at least once per week for help during the probation. If the teacher feels that the student is making significant progress, then he or she will be allowed to participate. If not, the student will be removed from the activity until the grade

Reaching out in Wakefield

"The main goal the School Committee would like to encourage this year is an outreach effort to bring the community and the schools closer," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"We (the School Committee) want to make the schools valuable for everyone in the community," said School Committee Chairperson Dr. Christine Bridges," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The School Committee members will attend different town meetings and meetings of other organizations in the town to see how the schools are doing and how the community can be more involved with the school system. According to members of the Committee, this will help the School Department understand what the community would like to see it accomplish."

"The philosophy behind this is that last year's attempts at communicating with the public didn't work out as well as the Committee would have liked so this year the Committee is going to bring itself to the public and ask the questions that are sometimes hard to ask...."

is passing."

"Woods said he applied the new requirements to the 50-member football team. Only one student who carried five courses and two students carrying six courses did not meet the standards. Woods found the results to be excellent. 'I didn't know what to expect. I knew there weren't a lot of people flunking off the team and that it would be minimal. But, I was pleased with those numbers....'"

Getting involved in Reading

"Understanding Disabilities puts lots of volunteers to work, both in organizational areas and in the classroom. If you have some free time, we have a role for you!" notes the Understanding Disabilities newsletter.

"You say, 'I'm not a teacher. I certainly couldn't teach a group of kids!' Rest assured that NONE Of us was born to teach. Those who go into the classroom do so as a group and have careful, thorough training beforehand. You're given a script, cue cards and plenty of opportunity to practice any activities. Beginners are put to work as Classroom Assistants; more experienced volunteers may take on the role of Unit Leader. Everybody makes new friends!"

"Volunteers go into 4th grade classrooms in the fall of each school year, teaching about

'Mental Retardation,' 'Diabetes, Asthma and Epilepsy' and 'Learning Disabilities.' In the spring, the 3rd grade classes learn about 'Blindness,' 'Deafness' and 'Physical Disabilities.' Volunteers sign up for the unit of their choice, with most agreeing to be in a classroom on two to four different school days. Dates for the various units at all four schools are planned far in advance to allow people to arrange their schedules.

"If you're absolutely too shy to go into a classroom, or possibly tied up during the school day, we have tasks requiring phone calling or evening meetings that might be more up your alley."

"If you have a third or fourth grader, you'll probably want to get involved. If you have younger children, you might want to try out the program to see what lies ahead. If you're a grandparent with time on your hands, you might want to see what you've been missing in the elementary schools all these years! If you'd like to get involved, call Understanding Disabilities' Administrator, Nancy Radville, at 781-944-1192, and she will put you in touch with the recruitment coordinator at the school of your choice."

If you'd like to read about your favorite school, student or teacher in "School Notes," please send school newsletters and other relevant information to Phyllis Nissen, "School Notes," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867. We welcome student writing.

Physician Assistants developing

North Reading's Shaenaeus Graf hears many perceptions about her job as a physician assistant at the North Reading Medical Associates. The worst was from a Massachusetts politician who reportedly said: "Oh, a physician assistant. Isn't that the person who takes you into the examining room and takes your temperature and blood pressure?"

Graf's answer to that question would be a definite, "No." "We can see our own patients and follow up with them if they go to the hospital," Graf said. "The difference between physician assistants and doctors is that we have limits. We don't take complicated patients like cardiac patients. We would never be the surgeon doing complicated surgery, but we could assist, the surgeon on the procedure."

Graf, a 48-year-old licensed and certified physician assistant, P.A.C., loves her work. She moved to the United States from Scotland about 20 years ago and found that her UK nursing degree did not apply here. After completing her nursing education in Canada and at Salem State College in Salem, Massachusetts, with a Bachelor of Science, Graf worked for 20 years as a bedside nurse and loved almost every minute, she said.

"But the reality was that sometimes it was 2 a.m. and you'd know what needed to be done for a patient but you'd have to call a doctor to do it. Being a PA allows me different opportunities to practice and use my knowledge."

According to the Massachusetts Association of Physician Assistants (MAPA), the role of a physician assistant is as follows: "Within the physician/PA relationship, physician assistants exercise autonomy in medical decision-making and provide a broad range of diagnostic and therapeutic services. Physician assistant practice is centered on patient care and may include educational research and administrative activities."

Many of the differences between being a physician assistant and a nurse practitioner come from the training, Graf said. In practice, both can have their own patients, both can prescribe medications and make diagnoses. In education, nurse practitioners are taught on the nursing educational model, tending to focus on the well-being of the whole person, whereas medical training is more disease and technique centered. A physician assistant could perform minor surgery in the office, for example, but a nurse practitioner usually won't.

There are about 700 physician assistants in Massachusetts, while there are probably some 3000 nurse practitioners. According to MAPA, over 50 percent of all physician assistants practice primary care medicine which includes family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics and gynecology. About 19 percent work in surgery or the surgical subspecialties.

Wayne Weinreb, M.D., a physician at the North Reading Medical Associates, sees a great future for the job of physician assistant.

"As others in the medical and non-medical professions realize the value of physician assistants, their role will become more significant and admired within the medical community," Weinreb said.

The low numbers of licensed physician assistants in Massachusetts probably stems from its relatively recent development as a field. Starting in 1973, legislation allowed physician assistants to perform physician services with the supervision of a licensed physician.

The physician must supervise the entire care of the patient from start to finish, but need not be physically present during most care, the law said. In 1983, new laws granted prescriptive privileges, and these privileges expanded in 1991.

Graf earned her degree in 1994 from Northeastern University, and she says her path to her career was not at all typical. Most nurses choose to become nurse practitioners if they want to expand their medical role. In Graf's experience, physician assistants come to the field from other medical services such as laboratory researchers or emergency medical technicians. She chose the two-year program at Northeastern for physician assistants because it seemed more challenging for her.

The most rewarding thing is that I feel I really have time to listen to what a patient's needs are," Graf said. "When I hear, 'I really feel better and I'm glad of what you did,' - That's the reward."

Volunteers being sought for hearing study

Volunteers are being sought for a hearing study that will be conducted by Deborah Dempsey, M.A., CCC-A, FAAA, of Hearing Ears Audiology Resources (H.E.A.R.) of North Reading.

- Births -

GREG and ROBYN (WILLIAMS) FERRAZZANI announce the birth of their daughter, Caroline Grace, on May 2, 1998 at Winchester Hospital. She joins her brother, Jack, age 3.

Grandparent honors are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferrazzani, all of Reading.

Great grandmother honors are extended to Mrs. Linda Moore of Reading.

JEFFREY and KRISTEN (DELL'ORFANO) ASH, formerly of Reading, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Kyle Benjamin, on May 12, 1998 at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston, Texas.

Grandparents honors are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dell'Orfano of Reading and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Ash of Hingham.

"M.E.'s for You"

Included in the survey will be a free hearing test and a check of present hearing aid equipment.

The objective of the study is finding 30 persons with hearing loss to participate in researching the development of new hearing aid equipment.

The confidentiality of all participants will be maintained. Qualified subjects include anyone who suspects hearing loss or has a confirmed hearing loss but has not yet decided to pursue hearing aid use; persons who have worn custom hearing aids for six months or longer; no medical ear problems such as ear pain or ear drainage or active ear disease.

The procedure will include a free otoscopic examination to rule out blockage or wax in the ear canal. Free audiologic evaluation including assessment of present hearing aids.

Deborah Dempsey has 18 years experience in Audiology and is the past director of the Audiology Department at Boston's Beth Israel Hospital. For the past two years, she did consulting work and has a private practice.

For the past two years, Dr. Dempsey has been thrilled to be an ongoing team member in the development of a new hearing aid.

The Middlesex East Santa is traditionally an appeal for funds to help the Salvation Army through the holiday season.

This year, however, the initial appeal is for time, not money.

Bell ringers are desperately needed.

On Wednesday, Nov. 18, the Salvation Army officially kicked off its 1998 Christmas Kettle Campaign with ceremonies at Downtown Crossing in Boston.

The "Bell of Hope" also sounded from churches, fire stations, schools and historic monuments, signalling the start of the season.

"The bells are a friendly reminder there are people in our communities who need help and that there is a way to respond to their needs through The Salvation Army," notes

Michael Fetcho of The Salvation Army.

There is a five-week window from Nov. 20 to Dec. 24, when bell ringers go to traditional shopping areas to raise funds, notes the army's Mary Gail Ranaldi.

Ranaldi said she has 1,650 hours to fill.

She is looking for volunteers from the area to help and hopes social or fraternal groups, sports teams, or anyone else who can give a little time to the effort will sign on.

Those interested should contact Ranaldi at 781-942-2083.

The M.E. Santa has always been an extension of the Kettle Program - a chance for those who haven't come across one of the kettles to donate.

And, it begins again this year.

Victorian caroling and party

The Victorian Melrose Society will old their annual Holiday Caroling and Potluck Party beginning at 5 pm on Sunday, December 13. This party for members and friends of the Society will be held this year on the Melrose East Side.

The Society contributes a baked ham and guests bring side dishes, desserts, and beverages. Neighborhood carolling begins the evening. Sheet music will be provided; participants are encouraged to bring flashlights or lanterns.

The potluck dinner party immediately follows the carolling. Nonmembers are welcome, especially if they can carry a tune. Call 781-665-8387 for information.

M.E. Santa: Office coffee clubs pass the mugs for M.E. Santa

THE NORTH POLE — We all greatly value our morning coffee. During this Christmas season, let's value it even more and make sure someone less fortunate can enjoy coffee.

Middlesex East Santa is urging office coffee clubs within the circulation market to double their donations for one week — one half for your joe, the other half going to the charity.

Example — in the controversial Daily Times Chronicle coffee club, members give $1 each week. Next week, we will give $2 each.

Make the season bright. Donate through your coffee club.

Woodchips

From $-8
over my shoulder as I was typing just ran to the kitchen for a couple of aspirins.

Children have become so expensive only the POOR can afford them.

Blackie Vega is a barber college dropout. He was shaving George Guyette and nicked him more than a few times. He asked George, "shall I wrap your head in a towel?" "Yes" George said, "And I'll carry it home under my arm." Paul Bruno, the owner of the barber shop told Blackie, "give him a glass of water before he gets off the chair and "CHECK" for LEAKS."

Joe D'Ambrosio said, to the pretty manicurist, "how about stepping out with me tonight, for a fine dinner, a show etc." "I'm married," she replied. "So what? Just call your husband up and tell him you have to work late." "Tell him yourself," she told Joe, "he's shaving YOU."

I took Kathy out to dinner on her birthday. She told the waiter, "I'll have the, Spumoni Vincerelli please," "Scusa, but where do you see that on the menu?" "Right here." The waiter smiled and said, "Signora that's the name of the owner of this restaurant."

My House must have been built by bootleggers. The FOUNDATION is STONED, the WALLS are PLASTERED and the WINDOWS all have a PANEFUL GLAZED look. BUT, my family and I are happy here, especially at night when the MOONSHINE is over our heads.

Yanno and Nicky Petruzzelli of New Deal told me, "America sent a man to the moon and their cousin Mario is going to the sun. "Hey, wait a minute," I exclaimed, the sun is so hot the space ship and Mario will BURN UP!". Nicky and Yanno smiled and said, "Stupido, he's going at NIGHT."

Tom Giovaco told me, "Chipper, a refrigerator in Italy is called an, "Ice-a-Box-a."

At 2 in the morning, Kathy shouted, "Get up! Get up! I hear a mouse squeaking!" I opened one eye and groaned, "well, what do you want me to do, get up and oil it."

Skip Cavallaro told me, "an Italian Opera isn't over, until the "fat lady" sings.

OUR OLE MODEL 'T'

By Anthony Manconi
I'll tell you the tale of our Ole Model T
We'd park it under the old apple tree
We'd wash and polish it so it would gleam,
Like a rare jewel, or so it would seem.

Then We'd all pile in for a trip to the beach
I would crank and crank till the engine would screech
But the noise would be drowned by everyone's cheer,
For we knew we were off on the ride of the year.

We waved at friends as we chugged along.
As we laughed and sang song after song.
When at last we were within sight of the beach
We'd give a loud cheer for our Old Model T.

After a day of swimming and games in the sun, We'd be happy and tired of all the fun
Then back home again in our Ole Model T
Again we would park it under the tree.

Today as I recall those wonderful days.
I think of the car we all liked to praise.
It's indelibly etched in my memory,
It was our beautiful beauty,
"Our Ole Model T."

WORDS OF THE WEEK!

Lou D'Angelo
Realtor/Colonial Manor Realty

"What does that mean?" Some commonly used Real Estate terms and definitions follow for your information:

DEED. A written instrument that when properly executed and delivered conveys title to land.

DEPRECIATION. A loss of value brought about by age, economic obsolescence, or functional obsolescence.

DEVISE. A gift of real estate by will.

DISCOUNT POINTS. Charges made by lenders to adjust the effective rate of interest on a mortgage.

DOWER. Widow's interest in land of deceased husband.

DUAL AGENCY. One broker representing both parties in the same transaction.

Tall entry doors are dramatic

If you think the front door of your home needs a change and you want to make a statement with your entry way, then you're just in time for the latest design trend. Architects are now using eight-foot tall entry doors to make a really big impression and you can do the same with your home.

Some of these new eight-foot door systems can also help you make it a personalized statement by offering a wide range of design options to create the custom door you've always wanted.

For example, Thermo-Tru's eight foot Fiber-Classic and Steel Door Systems offer various panel styles that can be combined with many doorlite choices, including matching transoms and sidelites to create a unique and impressive entrance that will add lasting beauty to your home.

The eight-foot-Fiber-Classic line, which is offered in more than twenty styles, can also be stained or painted to further customize the look.

These doors are also energy efficient. Manufactured with a solid polyurethane foam core which significantly increases the thermal performance, they offer more than five times the R-value of comparable wood doors. In addition, unlike wood doors, they will not warp, split or crack.

If you do decide to update your entry way, be sure to look for doors that are packaged as a complete system with all the components - frame, sill, hinges and so on - designed, engineered and manufactured to work together. This will save you time and money on the installation

Patterson fits practicality, nostalgia in small package

By Associated Designs

Charming and compact, the two-story Patterson is a three-bedroom, three-bathroom home designed to fit on a narrow lot. The raised porch and matched gables add a nostalgic touch to this small contemporary plan.

Families with young children will appreciate having all of the bedrooms within earshot. The small powder room just inside the door is another kid-friendly feature, handy for quick pit stops when they're playing out front.

Living room and dining room flow together to create a great room that is open, spacious and bright. Three windows fill most of the front wall in the living room, and two more windows are in the dining room. Half walls crowned by posts mark the boundary between the two areas. Nine-foot ceilings in the great room and kitchen add to the sense of volume.

Counter and storage space is ample in the big country kitchen. Windowed on two sides, this too is a bright space. Sliders at the rear open onto a small patio, ideal for summer meals or napping in the sun. Next to the wall that hides the stairway, there's space for a good-sized kitchen table, while a roomy walk-in pantry provides additional shelving for canned goods and staples.

Utilities are close to both kitchen and garage. This location allows it to double as a mud room, when needed.

The Patterson's cozy master suite has a private bathroom with dual vanity and oversized shower. Secondary bedrooms share another bathroom, this one outfitted with a combination tub and shower.

Both of the front bedrooms have gabled alcoves, ideal locations for bright window seats.

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $15 to Associated Designs, 1100 Jacobs Dr., Eugene, Ore. 97402. Please specify the Patterson 30-117 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring over 250 home plans is available for $12. For more information call (800) 634-0123.

New power tool can give great detail

Pay attention to the details in your life and everything else will fall into place. That's the rule which has been helping home craftsmen and women all across America with their sanding, cutting, grinding and polishing.

A new variable speed power tool that does this is the latest value-priced, entry in Ryobi's popular line of detail tools.

Called simply the Multi-Tool, it is a hand-held rotary action, all purpose tool with collets that hold a wide variety of cutting, grinding and polishing accessory bits. Made to sell for under $60, the Multi-Tool is reported to have plenty of muscle, outperforming other tools with more consistent RPM and reserve capacity to deliver more power under the load.

The tool gets its power because of its very high torque at low RPM's as well as high RPM's. Torque is a measurement of resistance against a force. Machines like the Ryobi, which can produce significant torque, will work effectively.

An informative brochure about hand-held power tools is available free by calling 800-525-2579.

Smoke alarm can be a lifesaver

Are there any heroes in your house? If you have a working smoke alarm on every level of your home, your answer should be yes. Smoke alarms are heroes. In the event of a fire, they can save your life and those of your loved ones by providing an early warning signal.

Having a working smoke alarm more than doubles your chances of surviving a fire. But a smoke alarm can only protect you if it is installed and maintained properly.

"Many people install their smoke alarms and forget them, which can be a fatal mistake," United States Fire Administrator Carrye Brown said, "Replacing the batteries in a smoke alarm is just as important to personal security as locking the doors in the home."

Officials of the United States Fire Administration recommend the following lifesaving tips for smoke alarm installation and maintenance:

•Install smoke alarms as recommended by the manufacturer. For extra safety, install smoke alarms both inside and outside sleeping areas.

•Replace the batteries in your alarms with fresh batteries at least once a year-perhaps when you change your clocks for Daylight Savings Time or on special dates.

Woodworking: carve out a special niche

If you like to work with wood, you're not just whittling away alone. Almost, 17 million Americans enjoy this hobby, which is considered by many to be an art form.

Interestingly, woodcarvers use a variety of methods. According to experts at Woodcraft, a company established in 1928, in chip carving, patterns or designs are cut into a wooden surface by removing small triangular slices of wood with a chisel or a knife, or both. In line or scratch carving, carvers cut lines into wood with a U-shaped parting tool. In relief carving wood carvers cut background wood away, leaving designs that project from the surface which looks three-dimensional.

One of the most popular forms of carving, for anyone who likes to carve with their hands as well as their heads, is carving in the round. This involves making a free-standing object from a block of wood that can be viewed from any side, such as a statue or a bowl.

There are a number of ways you can start a woodcarving hobby. One of the easiest is to get a beginner's kit. One that Woodcraft offers is called "Old Time Whittling Kit," and includes a book on whittling as well as a few essential carving tools, a Butz carving knife, leather bench stop for keeping the knife sharp, two thumb guards for added safety, and a 2-inch by 2-inch by 12-inch piece of kiln dried basswood, the carving wood of choice.

On the weekends, when time is easier to carve out for yourself, it's a very pleasant way to start a life long hobby that gives a lot of personal satisfaction.

An informative catalog about woodcarving and woodworking in general, is available free by calling Woodcraft at 1-800-535-4482.

New membership and gift orders can be placed by calling toll-free 1-800-FULL-LEAF (1-800-385-5532).

HOMEOWNER Q'S AND A'S

Q: I built a porch with a metal roof on it. We enclosed it in using storm windows, but have not installed heat. The problem is that in the summer with the windows open, condensation forms and runs off the inside of the roof. What is the best way to stop the condensation? Will installing plywood and shingles over the metal help?

A: The way to stop the condensation from developing is to prevent the vapor in the porch air from contacting the cold metal roof. Putting plywood and shingles on top of the roof will not help. Instead, you should put insulation under the roof and cover the insulation with a vapor barrier. With this installation, the vapor will not migrate beyond the vapor barrier. Also, because of the insulation, the vapor barrier will have a temperature that is above the dew point. Consequently, condensation will not develop. You can cover the insulation and vapor barrier with drywall or wood panels.

Q: I am looking for a replacement toilet tank cover for an American Standard Tank #409 in Regency Blue. Our local plumber claims the cover is not available and wants to sell me a complete toilet. Since the color of the new toilet will not match that of the other bathroom fixtures, I am reluctant to buy it. Do you have suggestions?

A: We called the American Standard Co. and inquired about the cover to your toilet tank. Although they no longer manufacture that model and color, they apparently still have some covers in stock.

Special qualities to look for in a carpet

Middlesex East REAL ESTATE SECTION

When most of us shop for new carpeting we are making a fairly long term purchase, one that we hope will not only look good in our home now, but for many years to come.

For most people the determining factor in deciding to purchase one carpet over another is the style. This is an important consideration, however we also need to look at the factors that will add to ease of maintenance and longevity.

The main consideration in choosing a particular type of carpet should be where will the carpet be placed in the home. Will it be used in a formal dining area? A child's bedroom? A high traffic hallway or an informal family room?

Once we know the location of a carpet in the home we can then determine the type of traffic that it will be subjected to. Thus we can place a carpet with the desired characteristics just where they are needed most. The characteristics that we will look for in our new carpeting will be the style, fiber content density of pile and yarn twist.

Choosing the right style of carpeting for different areas of your home is extremely important not only for aesthetics, but also for functionality. For example, in a high traffic area, such as a hallway, we may not want to place a cut pile product that is susceptible to yarn untwist.

We many opt rather for a berber style carpet which, because it has no exposed yarn ends to untwist, can take more foot traffic with minimal fiber distortion. While in a lower traffic area, such as a bedroom, you may want the more delicate textures of a saxony plush type carpet.

The content of the face fiber is a very important consideration depending on where the carpet is to be placed. If you were looking to replace your dining room carpet for example, you may want to choose a high grade branded nylon which has excellent resilience and stain resistance.

Wool would be the fiber of choice for a bedroom or a formal living room area where foot traffic is light, possibility of staining low and appearance a high priority.

Other available fibers include those made of polypropylene (olefin), polyester, acrylic and cotton. Each of these fibers have different physical properties which make them more suitable for different uses. Also the carpet manufacturers offer a wide variety of carpeting made up of blends of different fibers which can enhance performance. Your carpet retailer should be able to help you select the product which best suites your particular needs.

The last two key components to choosing the proper carpet are the pile density and the yarn twist. The pile density refers to the amount of pile yarns packed into a given area of carpet (usually expressed as ounces/square yard). The greater the pile density the better the carpet will resist crushing and matting. Also, since the pile yarns account for up to 60% of the cost of a carpet the pile density dramatically affects the cost of the carpeting.

Smoke alarm

From S-13

• Do not disable your smoke alarm if it sounds due to cooking or other non-emergency causes-you may not remember to put the batteries back in the alarm.

• Do not remove the batteries to put in other appliances such as personal stereos or games.

• Smoke alarms wear out over time. Replace yours if it is 10 years old or more.

Many hardware, home supply or general merchandise stores carry smoke alarms. If you are unsure where to buy one in your community, call your local fire department on a non-emergency number and they will provide you with some suggestions.

"When you consider that these smoke alarms could save your life, your loved ones and your home, installing smoke alarms is certainly one of the simplest and smartest things you'll ever do," Brown said.

Bell ringers

From S-4

Lowell resident Jim Walmsley has not let the fact that he is on crutches stop him from manning the bell for his third year.

"It has been absolutely wonderful I wish I could do more," he said.

Walmsley tells of the service men that have come up to him with their donations and told of the help the Salvation Army has been to them while on the battle fields. He has also seen little children who have donated their piggy bank savings and bar-tenders who have donated their tip jar.

Another Daily Times Chronicle reader who has responded is Dewey Hathaway of Burlington. "This is my third week and I'm enjoying it thoroughly," Hathaway said.

He gets a great response from small children who come by to make a donation and then get a chance to ring the sleighbells he keeps on hand for them.

As for Rinaldi, even she has gotten into the spirit of ringing the bell.

"Ringing the bell is something I would have done on my own,"

she said. Although it is my first year, I hope to keep on doing it."

In fact she is already laying her plans to get an early start next year so that more bell ringers will be available at the start of the season. She will be contacting many of the local access cable stations and the newspapers as well as making appearances before youth groups, service groups, and schools in her quest for volunteers.

The tradition was started by Salvation Army Captain John McFee in 1891 when he made a commitment to provide a free Christmas dinner to the area's poor people in San Francisco. The first pot, based on the English "Simpson's Pot" was placed on the docks of Oakland. In 1897 the idea was brought to Boston by Captain William A. McIntyre and pots were placed in three locations along Boston's Washington Street.

Although scoffed by other Salvation Army Officers the Boston pot and ones in other parts of the country resulted in 150,000 dinners being served throughout the country.

The kettle has now been spread all over the world and can be seen in Korea, Japan, Chile, and many European countries.
